Unusually Small Shoe Size Leads Police To Identification of Body Found in Canal

A month and a day after a fully-clothed man's body was pulled May 2 from the Delaware-Raritan Canal, Township police report they have learned his identity.

Lt. Samuel Bianco, who has headed the intensive investigation from the beginning, on Tuesday identified the victim as Douglas B. Riley, 25. Mr. Riley, Lt. Bianco said, had lived in Hamilton Square a year ago and had attended Mercer County Community College. He had dropped out of that school, he said, to enter another school program in California. The victim had last lived in Hayward, Ca.

The victim's father, Robert R. Riley, had been employed by Princeton University as Administrator of Dormitory Food Services from 1973-79, Lt. Bianco believes. Before working for the university, Mr. Riley had been a retired U.S. Army career officer who had moved all over the country. Lt. Bianco reported the victim's father died last February.

Lt. Bianco at first declined to reveal the victim's name, because he has been unable to get in touch with his two known survivors, his mother in Kentucky or Virginia and an aunt in Washington, D.C. Later on he received permission to identify Riley from the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office.

The victim's identity was obtained as a result of a lot of hard, exhaustive police work.

Dedication and Joy Mark Career of Bill Cirullo, Newly Appointed Principal of Riverside School

William D. Cirullo, a fourth grade teacher at Riverside School, has been named the school's new principal. He will replace retiring principal George Petrillo.

Mr. Cirullo, who grew up on Humbert Street and attended public school in Princeton until leaving for college in Tennessee, was selected from three finalists at a Monday night closed meeting of the Princeton Regional Board of Education. The names of the other finalists were not disclosed by the board.

He will begin his new post on July 1 at an annual salary of $51,367.

The new principal, who was selected from 137 applicants from across the country, became a teacher in Princeton Regional Schools in 1970, shortly after graduating from the University of Tennessee with a degree in elementary education. In 1983, he received a master's degree from Rider College's School of Administration and Supervision.

William D. Cirullo
'Marvelous Reputation'

He played tailback while at Princeton High School and has been head coach of the school's football team since 1981. Prior to that, he was top assistant to coach Jim Beachell. Mr. Cirullo will now step down from his coaching position. "I've enjoyed going to Princeton High School. I'll miss it and I'll miss the staff," he says.

He also served as the high school's head lacrosse coach for nine years, giving that up to pursue his advanced degree at Rider. The team enjoyed its greatest success during his years as coach.

Mr. Cirullo began his teaching career in Community Park School and then moved over to John Witherspoon Middle School, where he taught sixth, seventh, and eighth grades.

In 1982, he became a support and enrichment teacher in language arts and social studies at Riverside. He has remained there, teaching fourth grade.

Mr. Cirullo was picked through a selection process that began with a committee of parents, teachers and administrators. This group narrowed the field down to ten, each of whom was interviewed by outgoing Superintendent Paul Houston and incoming Superintendent Carol Choye.

Tony Award for Featured Actress in a Musical Won by Princeton Born and Bred Bebe Neuwirth

Bebe Neuwirth, who plays Charity's wisecracking sidekick in the reproduction of the Broadway musical Sweet Charity, received a Tony Award last Sunday as a featured actress in a musical.

Sweet Charity, which opened April 27 at the Minskoff Theatre on 45th Street to rave reviews, garnered three of the 19 Tony Awards this year. Michael Rupert won for featured actor in a musical, and Sweet Charity itself received an award as a reproduction.

Miss Neuwirth grew up in Princeton, learning to dance at Princeton Ballet, to sing under the tutelage of Milton Lyon, and to act at every opportunity in this opportunity-filled community. In press, television and radio interviews following her nomination for a Tony Award on May 5, she was hailed for these triple talents and for her comic flair, a combination which is likened to that of Ethel Merman and Chita Rivera.

Her parents, Lee and Sidney Neuwirth, watched the Tony Award ceremony Sunday night at the home of friends. "Delighted that she had been nominated, we were not thinking in terms of 'winning,'" Mrs. Neuwirth says. "When she did win, I jumped up and started to scream, and Lee knocked the coffee over. We are absolutely elated."

It was evident to Bebe's pediatrician, Mrs. Neuwirth says, from the moment he first saw the extraordinarily long legs of her newborn daughter, that this little girl would be a dancer, and he turned to her and said so. Bebe wanted to begin ballet at age four, but her mother, who had danced herself, held off "because I wanted her to love it, and we danced around the living room together instead."

Bids Open on Largest Bond Sale In History of Princeton Township

Bids were opened Monday night for what has been called the largest bond sale in the history of Princeton Township.

The $7.4 million bond issue for sewer repair and other capital projects was awarded to First Fidelity Bank of Princeton as agent of First Fidelity Bank NA for submitting a winning combination of the lowest interest rate and the highest premium. Of the five bids submitted, three asked 7.10 percent interest, one 7.2 and the fifth sought interest of 7.25 percent. In addition to being one of those specifying 7.10 percent, First Fidelity bid on a face amount that is $10,693 below the $7,405,000 the Township seeks.

According to John S. Clawson Jr., Township treasurer and tax collector, this means that the Township will have to repay $10,000 less in the course of the 15 year life of the bonds and also receives a $693 premium. Mr. Clawson and Township Administrator James J. Pascale estimate that this bond issue will add 10 to 12 cents to the tax rate in 1987.

Other banks or banking combinations submitting bids included New Jersey National, teamed with Chemical Bank; United Jersey, which bid with Midlantic National Bank "and associates"; Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith; and Paine Webber.

The two administrators selected three semi-finalists. The board interviewed all three Monday night before reaching its decision.

"He is well known to the system, staff and kids," says School Board President Michael Tomalin of Mr. Cirullo. "He has a marvelous reputation, and anyone who has ever worked with him is struck by his dedication to the system and his joy in working with kids. He has enormous amounts of enthusiasm and energy."

Mr. Cirullo lives in Pennington with his wife, Susan, a physical education teacher in Pennington's Toll Gate Grammar School, their son, Bill, 9, and daughter, Casey, 7. Many members of his family still live in Princeton Borough.

Asked his goals as he takes over the principalship of Riverside, Mr. Cirullo said he would like to further strengthen a very warm school community that is a wonderful place for learning.

When checks with national crime information computers that "searched" the entire nation with a description of the body failed to come up with a matching missing person, Lt. Bianco was forced to resort to some old-fashioned, detective digging. Hours and hours spent on the telephone and teletype finally paid off. "You can cover a lot of ground that way," said Lt. Bianco, who added he is still somewhat fearful of the Township's reaction to the telephone bill.

The victim was finally traced through his shoes — an expensive pair of Bally loafers. The size was unusually small (size 5), and Lt. Bianco learned that only eight stores in the country handled that particular style. On his third call — to a store in California — Lt. Bianco came up with a name and a record of sale. "I got a lot of cooperation from the company," Lt. Bianco said. He smiled when he recalled that he traced a pair of similar shoes from New York to Louisiana. The purchaser was a doctor still very much alive who wanted to know how Lt. Bianco had found out he had a pair of shoes like that.

Lt. Bianco had zeroed in on California because of another piece in the puzzle. A store name — "Fry's" — had been found on a shaving cream container in the victim's hotel room in the Hyatt Regency Hotel on Route 1, where he had registered under a false identity — probably the day before his body was found. A nationwide teletype sent out by Lt. Bianco revealed that most Fry stores were concentrated in Arizona and California, although he got one reply from as far away as Alaska. "I was looking for someone in Arizona or west of there," Lt. Bianco said.

After the "hit" with the Bally store in California, further confirmation came when the victim's description matched that on an application to the

Lt. Bianco reported that he is still waiting for toxicology reports from police labs to determine if alcohol or drugs or both were present in the victim's body. Such reports, he added, take from six to eight weeks.

State Denies Funding To North Mercer Center

The State Department of Education has rejected the request for funding by the North Mercer Family Consultant Center (NMFCC).

The center, housed in Princeton High School, was established in the fall of 1984 as a regional project to provide short-term consultation to families of students with persistent school problems.

The services have been shared by Princeton Regional, East Windsor Regional, Hopewell Valley Regional, Lawrence Township, and West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional schools. Princeton has applied for the grant for the past two years, administered the monies and contributed the space.

The NMFCC had asked for $110,000 in federal funds that are distributed by the state of New Jersey. In addition, the sharing districts were to contribute an additional $20,000.

Coastace Vielaad, the center's director, expressed concern with the process that led to the rejection, explaining that five readers in the Department of Education had determined the centers was ineligible to compete. However, she noted that two similar grants had been approved in past years.

Dr. Vielaad added that she had been told there was no appeal possible.

Borough Public Safety Committee to Study Desirability of Expanding the Police Force

The Borough's Public Safety Committee has been asked to study whether the police force should be expanded. The report is due by the end of the year — the time when budgets are prepared.

This decision, taken at last week's Borough Council meeting, followed a presentation by Capt. Thomas Michaud in which he expressed the department's desire for additional officers.

The captain said the department has long felt the need for additional officers. "If we don't increase manpower, we will have to take a look at courtesy services we've been supplying for years."

Asked to define these services, he told mayor and council that the Borough police force has resisted the removal of burglar alarm panels from headquarters, a move the Township has already made. "We answer a good number of false alarms a year."

Capt. Michaud also noted that the Borough police help people get into their locked cars about 700 to 800 times a year, and added that the department has wanted additional foot officers for years. There is not enough present manpower for foot patrol, he said. "With additional officers, we could have a foot patrol officer out most of the time."

The Borough's current police force numbers 30.

After some discussion, council decided to request a $12,241 Safe Neighborhoods Program grant from the state to hire additional police officers in advance of expected departures from the force. The grant — which Mayor Barbara Sigmund said appeared to be designed to support the hiring of permanent police personnel — would be used to fund the temporary expansion of the force during the period of overlap.

"We have the option to get state money while Council decides if the force should be expanded," said Police Commissioner Irv Urken.

In other business, council agreed to support Mayor Sigmund's efforts to have neighboring towns fulfill part of their Mt. Laurel II obligation by purchasing houses in Princeton Borough.

Since the meeting, Mayor Sigmund has broached the idea with the mayors of Ewing and Hamilton Townships. Both, she said, appeared receptive, but the idea would have to be discussed with the municipalities' governing bodies.

Borough Council also approved pay raises of $1500 each for mayor and council and gave its blessing to a revised pay schedule for borough employees. This new schedule generally raises both the maximum and minimum ends of the salary scale.

The "Adopt-a-House" ordinance, which eases zoning restrictions on houses moved either into or within the Borough, was also approved.

Councilmen Marvin Reed and John Huntoon were asked by the mayor to look into the request for fare increases by the Princeton Taxi Owners Association.

The association would like the fares to go up from $2.50 to $3 for one passenger to any destination within the Borough; from fifty cents to $1 for each additional passenger; from $2.50 to $3 for two or more passengers to separate destinations; from fifty cents to $1 for each additional passenger to the same destination between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.; from $3 to $3.75 for waiting time; and from $3 to $3.75 for trip rates for each quarter hour or fraction thereof.

Library Addition Due Before Planning Board

Princeton University will formally present plans to expand the underground stacks at Firestone Library to the Planning Board this week.

The board holds its regular monthly meeting this Wednesday, starting at 7:30, at the Valley Road building, Witherspoon Street entrance. The meeting will begin with an application for minor revisions to the second office building on Thanel Road, off Terhune Road, to which the Planning Board gave final approval at the end of 1984.

To relieve chronic overcrowding in Firestone Library, the University seeks to add 45,000 to 50,000 square feet of space that it describes as a "new hookstack building." The addition is essentially an extension of underground B and C levels to fill the corner of Nassau Street and Washington Road that was not filled when the library was extended below ground in 1970.

To make up for the several majestic trees that will have to be sacrificed for the addition, the University plans a "linear park" between the library extension and Nassau Street. The park, 25 feet in width, would extend for nearly 300 feet along Nassau Street behind the low stone wall that currently parallels the sidewalk.

The Planning Board reviewed the plans in concept in late January. More recently, the plans were reviewed by the Historic Preservation Review Committee in lieu of the Site Plan Review Advisory Board, and that report will be considered, along with recommendations of staff.

Also on a lengthy agenda for Thursday evening is a request from Princeton Theological Seminary for permission to expand a small parking lot along Stockton Street to accommodate cars that will be displaced by the construction of a new multi-purpose building near the campus center.

The state Senate has passed a measure that will permanently give New Jersey motorists the option of getting their cars checked at either public or private facilities.

The state Senate passed the legislation two days after the expiration of the dual inspection system, which was begun as an experiment in 1983. The bill was immediately sent to Gov. Thomas Kean, who signed it within hours.

The bill's sponsor, Assemblyman William Schuber, R.-Bergen, said the dual system is convenient for motorists and has helped to drastically cut waiting times at state stations.

Helping Towns Get Insurance

The state Senate unanimously approved legislation that would help municipalities obtain liability insurance at more affordable rates. The measure would establish a self-insurance commission and make coverage for towns, cities and counties more available and less expensive, according to its sponsor, Sen. Raymond Lesniak, D.-Union.

The legislation has been forwarded to the Assembly for consideration.

Governor Nominates Poul Koenig

Gov. Thomas H. Kean has nominated Mercer County Counsel Paul T. "Pete" Koenig Jr. of Hopewell to become the next prosecutor for Mercer County. Mr. Koenig, a former assistant prosecutor, will succeed Philip Carchman of Princeton, who resigned the post to become a Superior Court judge.

The nomination must be confirmed by the full Senate.

Assembly Eyes Insurance Reform

The state Assembly Insurance Committee has released a package of five bills designed to reform New Jersey's liability insurance system.

The bills would propose a graduated cap on awards for pain and suffering; allow companies to use a "state of the art" defense for product liability; direct the payment of 95 percent of all punitive damages to the state instead of the plaintiff; and require defendants to contribute to an award only the amount that is directly attributable to their individual degree of negligence.

The Assembly committee's chairman, Ralph Loveys, R.-Morris, said the proposals would provide sweeping reforms and open up the sagging liability insurance market to government and businesses.

The package is expected to pass easily in the Republican-controlled Assembly. Rougher going is anticipated in the Democratic-controlled Senate.

Request from Developer For Sewer Ban Waiver

One Hundred Thanet Road Associates, developer of two office buildings off Terhune Road, has applied to the Sewer Operating Committee for a hearing on its request for an exemption to the sewer ban. The request will be heard at the SOC's next meeting, Wednesday, June 11, at 8 in Borough Hall.

One office building and the parking areas for the second have already been constructed in what was originally a Bowers Construction Company project, subsequently sold to the Trenton contractor Joseph Jingoli. The first office building received a sewer extension permit before a ban was imposed by the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection early in 1985. The second building had not received the permit when the DEP ban went into effect.

The SOC was recently required by the DEP to reimpose a sewer extension ban, partly in order to clarify the procedures and conditions under which an exemption could be requested. Collins Development was the first applicant to be heard under these procedures, and received an extension conditioned upon a time-table of construction completion dates for various phases of its Hulfish North proposals.

The Thanet office building developer is expected to cite financial hardship, one of the four permitted conditions under which a request can be heard and the same plea on which Collins made its case. In the eyes of the DEP, which makes the final decision as to whether or not to grant the exemption, financial hardship means outlay of funds in construction costs to improve the property in question.

$2,000 Computer Stolen From Dormitory Room

An Apple Macintosh com-puter with an external drive was stolen Sunday from an unlocked student's room in Gauss Hall on the Princeton University campus. The com-puter and drive are valued at $2,090.

A winter overcoat valued at $600 was stolen Friday from a student's unlocked room in Witherspoon Hall on the univer-sity campus, and another uni-versity student listed the theft Monday of a 13-inch color tele-vision set valued at $260 and a $150 stereo cassette tape player. The victim reported his room had been locked but po-lice could find no signs of forced entry.

Township police report the theft last week of $583 from a desk drawer in an unlocked stu-dent's room in 1940 Hall.

In one of two wallet thefts last week in Dillon Gym on the university campus, a student lost $40 when he left his wallet on a bleacher while playing basketball. The following day, a Borough resident did the same thing while playing basketball. He lost his wallet containing $60 and his eyeglasses.

Between 1:45 and 3:45 p.m. last week, someone removed an employee's purse from a shelf in a back room in Bon Ap-petit in the Princeton Shopping Center. The victim lost $30, her purse and personal items worth a combined $60.

An antique clock valued at $950 was stolen Friday from a Toyota hatchback while it was parked on Witherspoon Street near Shirley Court. The victim, a resident of Plainsboro, told police the clock was a replica of a Dutch Zaansee clock. Al-though the car was locked, he admitted that the hatchback lid might not have been secured.

Jacuzzi Tubs Taken. Two jacuzzi tubs valued at $2,800 each were stolen during the weekend from two homes under construction in the Heatherstone Development off Lawrenceville Road.

Two cars, both parked on Alexander Street, were entered and looted last week. Taken overnight from the 1984 Toyota of a Lawrenceville resident were a radar detector, a leather briefcase and a pair of glasses worth a combined $495; from a 1984 Corvette owned by a Yardley, Pa. resident: a radar detector, men's and women's clothing, and a pair of sunglasses worth a combined $1,120. In each theft, a window had been smashed to gain entry.

A sideview mirror was stolen from a 1983 Toyota while it was parked Sunday in a driveway of the Woodrow Wilson Building off Prospect Avenue. Police identified the owner as a Plainsboro resident.

While a Princeton University student was swimming at the Community Park pool on Satur-day, someone entered his locker and took $8 and his clothing, valued at $30. The vic-tim told police he had locked the locker with a key but when he returned he discovered it open and another key inside.

A man's 10-speed Raleigh bicycle was stolen overnight from in front of 65 Prospect Ave-nue where, police said, it had been locked to itself with a combination lock, and a boy's 10-speed Schwinn valued at $200 was taken last week from a bike rack at John Witherspoon School. It was unlocked.

Green St. Man Charged In Wine Bottle Assault

John R. Tadlock, 30, 29 Green Street, has been charged by Borough police with ag-gravated assault, after he allegedly cut another man with a broken wine bottle during an argument Friday on Lytle Street.

Hanley, Tadlock and a 36-year-old resident of Princeton Community Village became involved in an argument around 5:30 on Lytle near John Street. It began with name-calling and then escalated into a scuffle.

During the argument, Tadlock is alleged to have broken a wine bottle against the victim's leg and then attempted to stab the victim in the body with the jagged edge. Lt. Haoley reported the victim sustained a four-inch cut on the left side of his rib cage.

Police were called and Tadlock was arrested and charged by Det. Randy Sutton. He was released on his own recognizance the next day, pending his appearance in court.

Lt. Haoley reported that police do not know what caused the argument.

Two Homes Are Entered Same Day in Township

Two homes, one on Hun Road and one on Edgerstone, were entered Thursday between noon and 4. In both entries, a pillow case, which police believe was used to carry items away, is missing from a master bedroom.

Jewelry, silver and stainless steel items, of unknown value, were taken from the Hun Road home which was entered during a one-hour period by forcing the front door. The missing items, police said, were taken from various rooms, including the dining room and upstairs and downstairs bedrooms. Ptl. James Strong investigated.

Reception for Paul Houston

The Princeton Regional Board of Education will sponsor a farewell reception for outgoing school superintendent Paul Houston on Tuesday, June 17, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the Davis Conference Room of Princeton High School.

Staff, students, parents and friends are invited to attend.

Persons planning to be there are requested to call 924-9322 before June 13.

The value of silver flatware and jewelry taken from the Edgerstone home is also unknown. It was entered by forcing a front window and removing a screen.

The jewelry was taken from a master bedroom, but other items, such as cameras and television sets, were left behind. Ptl. James Vandermark investigated.

search of the building revealed that nothing had been disturbed. Police were notified at 12:45 Thursday morning.

Township police believe that the vandalism of a Birch Avenue home last week between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. is the work of juvenile delinquents.

Eggs and tomatoes were thrown on the floors and walls and soda splashed all over. Some toys were broken by the vandals, who visited every room in the house.

"It was a mess," said Capt. Jack Petrone. Entry was gained through an unlocked front door.

The incident is still under investigation by Det. Rean Kaminski, the Township juvenile officer.

In another Township incident, a rock was thrown at the windshield of a 1977 Chevrolet while it was parked last week in a lot off Tupelo Row in Princeton Community Village. Police have received an estimate of the damage.

Parked Car Overturned On Prospect by Vandals

A 1974 Peugeot parked in front of the Tiger Inn on Prospect Avenue was flipped over on its roof early Thursday morning, causing considerable damage to the roof, hood and windows.

Police described the owner as a former university student who graduated from Princeton last May. Police were called at 2:31 a.m. by someone who noticed the car in the roadway.

A window at the Princeton Arts Council Building, 102 Witherspoon Street, was broken last week but a police

Cranbury Driver Charged With DWI, Test Refusal

A Cranbury resident, Vito L. Mairone Jr., 29, of 234 Windsor Commons, has been charged by Township police with driving while intoxicated and refusal to take a Breathalyzer test.

Mr. Mairone was stopped late Sunday night on Route 206 by Ptl. James Buchanan after the officer noticed he was driving with only his parking lights on. After the officer detected an odor of alcohol, he asked the driver to perform balance and

Two Are Fined $515 By the Township Court

Two Princeton area drivers were each fined $515 and had their licenses suspended for six months in Township court last week for driving while their license was suspended. They are Vito G. Porcero, 71 Jefferson Road, and Kenneth Krasner of Skillman. Gil Fisher, 27 Maclean Street, was fined $215 by Judge Sydney Souter as an unlicensed driver. Fined $65 for stop sign violations were Xixiang He, 226B Harrison Street, and Luisa T. Fernholz, 12 Dogwood Lane. Pascale Bourgois, 33 Sycamore Lane, paid $65 for passing a stopped school bus.

Louis A. Liporace, 1 Kingswood Drive, Belle Mead, was fined $25 for going around a roadway barricade — a violation of a Township ordinance.

Alvin M. Goodman, 52 Marion Road W., was fined $20 for parking where prohibited.

Dinner Dance Benefit For Counseling Service

Trinity Counseling Service will hold its fourth annual Bastille Day dinner dance Saturday, July 12, at Bedens Brook Club.

Betsy Petty is chairman of the event. Members of her committee include Betsy Belsham, Barbara Bromley, Judy Burks, Iris Flournoy, Audrey Gates, Solly Hill, Nancy Kirkpatrick, Susan Levy, Daphne Pontius, Nancy Robins, Jean Silvester, Barbara Smoyer, Martha

Located at 22 Stockton Street, Trinity Counseling Service was founded in 1968 by the Rev. E. Rugby Auer of Trinity Church. It now handles more than 250 cases a month and has become a separate entity. A non-profit organization, financed by contributions and fees, TCS offers counseling to those who are coping with problems such as anxiety and depression, life crises, and marital and family problems. Referrals are made by pastors, doctors, lawyers and former clients.

The professional staff includes clergy, social workers, psychologists and psychiatrists of all denominations. No one is refused counseling for inability to pay a fee, and with government funds no longer available, events such as the Bastille Day Dance, raise funds to assist those in need of counseling.

Information and reservations for the dinner dance may be obtained from the Trinity Counseling Service office, 924-0060.

Three Bicyclists Struck In Separate Accidents

Three young bicyclists were struck by cars last week in separate accidents.

Kristin Peters, 20, 22 Harris Road, was hit last Wednesday afternoon on Route 206 at the intersection of Jefferson Road. According to the police report, Miss Peters was riding south on 206 when she crossed over the roadway during a break in traffic, approximately 200 feet from the Jefferson intersection. As she proceeded down the wrong side of the roadway, she came in front of a car operated by Margaret M. Wareham, 48, of Somerville, who was in the process of pulling out of Jefferson to turn right onto 206.

Ptl. Mark Emann issued a summons to Mrs. Wareham for failing to yield after stopping and to Miss Peters for failure to keep right. The latter was treated at Princeton Medical Center for contusions and abrasions of the knee and lower leg.

Hit-and-Run. Shortly before 8 a.m. the same day, 15-year-old Eric M. Koch, 755 Princeton-Kingston Road, was struck by a hit-and-run silver car while cycling on Snowden Lane near Rollingmead.

Young Koch told Ptl. David Leiggi that he was knocked off his bike and continued on to school where he was treated by the school nurse for minor bruises. The unknown car continued north on Snowden Lane.

Student Fails to Stop. An 18-year-old Princeton University student, Sandra A. Dixon, suffered cuts and a possible concussion after she was struck by a car last week at the intersection of Cherry Hill and Province Line Roads.

According to Hopewell Township police, Miss Dixon failed to stop for the stop sign at the foot of Province Line and was hit by a car coming west on Cherry Hill operated by Janice B. Moule, 34, of Yardley, Pa.

Miss Dixon was admitted to the Princeton Medical Center in guarded condition. There were no charges against the driver.

Car Hits Pole. The driver of a 1986 Nissan 300ZX and her 30-year-old passenger son sustained injuries after their car struck a pole on Route 206 Friday afternoon.

The driver, Loretta H. Wohar, 49, of Carver Place, Lawrenceville, told Ptl. Arthur Villaruz that she had been under a lot of stress because of her son's illness and may have suffered a temporary blackout. Two witnesses to the accident told police the car just veered off the shoulder of the road straight into the pole. Both agreed that from the way the car was driven, the driver appeared to have fallen asleep.

The car first struck a concrete culvert on the shoulder of the road 20 feet from the telephone pole before it continued on and hit the pole — 185 feet from Valley Road.

Mrs. Wohar was treated at Princeton Medical Center for lacerations of the face; her son complained of chest injuries. The accident is still under investigation.

Board Will Hear Report By Class Size Task Force

The Princeton Regional Board of Education was expected to hear the results of an interim report of the Task Force on Class Size at its planning meeting on Tuesday, June 3.

The committee has determined that research to date provides no support for the concept of an "optimum" class size in isolation of other factors.

In addition, the research summary indicated that small classes are important to increased pupil achievement in reading and mathematics in the early primary grades; that pupils with lower academic ability tend to benefit more from smaller classes than do pupils with average ability; and that there is considerable evidence that certain teaching procedures perceived by some educators as conducive to a productive learning environment occur more frequently in smaller classes.

These procedures include more individualization, creativity, group activity, and interpersonal regard.

Results of a committee survey show that elementary teachers see from 15 to 20 students as the median workable range; middle school teachers cite a slightly higher limit.

Views of high school teachers differ by the subject area taught, with the only real consistency in the lower limit. Except for social studies, the smallest optimum class size is from 12-15. In social studies, the number is 18.

The optimum largest class size as viewed by high school teachers ranged from 16 to 28.

Recreation Dept. Plans Trips for Senior Citizens

The Princeton Recreation Department has scheduled several senior citizen day trips this summer. The first is to the Hunterdon Hills Playhouse on June 20 to see Neil Simon's Come Blow Your Horn. Cost is $28.

On July 27, the bus will set off for The Lanark Inn in Phillipsburgh to see Star Spangled Daze, a musical revue. A tour of the Four Sisters Winery is included in the $30 fee. There is a discount for Trip Club members.

Other upcoming trips include Show Boat at Neil's New Yorker on August 14 and a visit to the Statue of Liberty on September 5.

For additional information, call the Princeton Recreation Department at 921-9480.

Summer Programs Set For Children at Library

The Public Library has planned a "whale of a summer for children" with many programs centered around fish and the sea.

Stories for children age 2-3½ will begin on Tuesday at 10:30. Parents will be asked to participate, and registration is required. Stories and a filmstrip for children age 3½-5 will start Tuesday, July 8, at 2. Registration begins June 17.

On Wednesday, July 9, at 10:30 and again at 3:30, Craig Collis, the silent sorcerer, will present a magic and mime show. Free tickets are required. On Wednesday evening, July 23, at 7:30, Susan Danoff will tell stories for the whole family. The program is suggested for age six and up and parents. Free tickets are required.

Ian Coats will sing sea songs and tell fish tales for pre-schoolers on Thursday, July 24, at 3:30. Tickets are required. Films for school-age children featuring a fish theme will be shown Wednesdays at 3:30, beginning July 16, while films for pre-schoolers, also having to do with the sea, will be shown on Thursdays at 3:30, starting July 17.

As a special program, Phyllis Church and Edith Kogan will lead an art and origami workshop for school age children Wednesday, August 6, at 3:30. Registration, limited to 20, is on a first-come, first-served basis. On Thursday, August 7, at 3:30, Robert Margolis will tell stories to pre-school children and their parents.

And on Thursday, August 14, at 3:30, there will be a beach party for pre-schoolers and a parent. The party is limited to 20 children, and registration is required.

Educational Exemptions Are Burden to Taxpayers

To the Editor of Town Topics: One person's tax exemption is another person's subsidy. Unfortunately, that's the dilemma posed by recent stories in TOWN TOPICS about tax appeals from the Institute, the Seminary, McCarter Theatre, and Prospect Avenue eating clubs.

Princeton Borough has been — or anticipates being — involved in litigation on all four of those major ratables. (We are joining to support the Township on its case regarding Institute housing. Unless overturned, the precedent of the Institute case could be calamitous for Borough taxpayers.)

Approximately 25% of the land area of Princeton Borough and 42% of our land values are already exempt from property taxation. That's obviously applauded by those educational, religious, and other public institutions entitled to such exemptions.

But, it does not simply mean that their taxes "disappear." It's the rest of the taxpayers who have to pick up the burden of municipal services — including police security, fire protection, and other public amenities. Unfortunately, too many of those Borough taxpayers are low and moderate income families or "mom-and-pop" proprietary businesses hanging on by their fingernails to survive in this increasingly expensive town.

When the Princeton Borough Council — or the Township Committee — opposes a tax appeal, it is not because we're anti-education, uncultured, or irreverent. Actually, considering its unfairness and inadequacies, we often lament the fact that the property tax is the only major source of revenue we're allowed to tap for municipal services, the county budget, and most of the costs of our regional schools. That's really stretching!

With this much revenue-sharing centered on an inadequate source, how far can we erode our local ratable base before those of modest incomes are totally wiped out of our town?

That's why the Borough Council is ready to go to court to test such questions as:

- what buildings at the University are part of its educational mission, and which are social clubs under a separate jurisdiction? (The clubs have settled on their "separateness" and we've agreed on a "reasonable" assessed value.)

- when does housing for undergraduates and graduate students fulfill that educational mission, and when is it more than that? (In the Institute case, it's necessary to ask how long a "post-doctoral fellow" remains a "scholar" rather than becoming a "professional researcher"? People can't live in "tax-exempt" student housing all their lives — or can they?)

- when does tax exemption for housing provided for faculty become a subsidy provided by the other taxpayers in the community rather than a fringe benefit offered by the employing institution? (Why through "tax exemption" should Borough taxpayers be subsidizing the housing of faculty at the Seminary?)

- when does a theater owned by the University become an extension of its educational offerings and when is it simply a rentable facility whose offerings — admittedly delightful, enriching, and low-cost — are cultural, not classroom events?

It's unfortunate that any of us — municipal governments, churches, theaters, universities, or "think tanks" — should be disputing with each other over any of this. It would be so much better if we all strove for public and private subsidies from revenue sources less regressive than our inadequate property tax.

But, as long as property taxes are all we have, we would hope that everyone would understand the need to contribute a fair share toward local costs, avoid a proliferation of exemptions, and not pass on the remaining burden to those taxpayers least able to afford further increases.

A Few Reasons for Buying Mountain Lakes Property

To the Editor of Town Topics: Recent letters to this column decry the value of Princeton Township buying Mountain Lakes. I propose that a conservative view of land preservation disputes their major theses. Here are a few reasons.

- Forested and shrubby open spaces suppress noise, reduce water runoff, provide recreation, protect native plants, reduce air pollution, and contribute to land values in our two municipalities.

- Are there data on Princeton to prove that development will pay its way if you really look beyond the short term economics expressed in property tax revenues?

- Who says that the Van Dyke-Wight tract is under utilized? The many hikers, runners, cyclists, birders will not agree: as a birder and cyclist I have seen an osprey catch a fish in a lake and within minutes surprise a ruffed grouse and brood a mile away (Lake Carnegie/Van Dyke-Wight). This is high quality use and I am not alone.

- Do we want the wall to wall suburbia seen in upper Essex and lower Bergen Counties where you drive for miles with no respite from 100% development? We could have that here. Our neighboring municipalities are developing to our borders. Two examples are Montgomery Woods off River Road and the huge development

THIS RING HAS BEEN THROWN FARTHER THAN ANYTHING IN HISTORY.

The record toss for an Aerobie is 1,125 feet. So says the Guinness Book of World Records.

That's almost a football field, end to end.

The flight secret? Advanced aerodynamic design and computer research.

Aerobie is precision made. Still, it's easy to throw. Just about anyone can throw it 300-600 feet accurately. Three times the distance of most flying rings.

Soft rubber edges make it comfortable to catch. Slim shape makes it easy to handle.

The free instruction book shows how easy it is to fly.

along the D&R Canal in West Windsor. We need to protect ourselves!

• Are we so arrogant that we believe we have all the answers on land use now? I propose the conservative view to bank open space now to endow future generations with open space choices other than massive demolition operations.

• We can get excellent advice from appropriate Federal and State agencies on how to handle Mountain Lakes. The Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Department of Interior, our own Department of Environmental Protection, and the Agricultural Experiment Station at Rutgers University will give advice on the uses we can make of this jewel in the public interest.

• It's true that many local taxpayers are not familiar with some public open space tracts. But, how many are all that familiar with Princeton University, its campus, and its programs? Both town and gown make major contributions to our quality of life in a social, intellectual, and physical sense.

• We are a retired couple living on modest pension. We stay here because of the range of opportunities for activity. The University makes a contribution in its own way. Shouldn't we reciprocate as tax payers and contribute to the quality of life here in part through keeping open space?

• New Jersey is a home rule state. Our Municipal Land Use Law gives us a lot of power at local levels. Princeton is looked up to as a leader. Shouldn't we lead, rather than follow the only too familiar examples of North Jersey?

• Let's not compromise on Mountain Lakes and take half a loaf. There is available land in adjacent municipalities that can be creatively developed for high cost residential purposes.

• For other than sheer financial profits to some and very pleasant living for a few why should we agree to the development of 68 more acres of beautiful Piedmont lakes and forest?

• I compliment the elected officials of Princeton Township on going on public record 4-1 to acquire all of Mountain Lakes' 68 acres. I hope their appointed planning board will support this action. I believe that a valid municipal referendum would support acquisition of Mountain Lakes as a conservative, long term approach to keeping Princeton what it has been for over 32 years in our case — a great place to live and raise a family.

Princeton Mayors Urged To Expedite Bridge Work

To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is the text of a letter I have sent to Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund and Township Mayor Winthrop Pike:

As executive board member of the newly formed Princeton Business Association, part of the Chamber of Commerce, I am chairing the Harrison Street Bridge committee. The PBA has designated the bridge problem as the focus of our initial efforts.

As business professionals in Princeton, we appeal to you both to expedite the repair and rebuilding of the Harrison Street Bridge. I speak for the Princeton Shopping Center merchants as well as corporations like Church and Dwight when I tell you that the impact on business has been significant. We feel that all of Princeton has been affected by the congested traffic at the other accesses to Princeton, due to the Harrison Street Bridge closure.

While the original time frame for repair of the bridge was noted as up to two years, we now understand that the process will take at least two years from now. We understand that certain design considerations have caused the project to be shelved by the Department of Transportation. Please act swiftly to resolve the extra cost and design issues so that the work can begin. Not another week should be wasted.

If the PBA or I can be of any assistance to speed this process, do not hesitate to call me.

Thank you for your consideration.

Homeless and Hungry Are Here and Need Help

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The host of persons who joined hands to aid the hungry and homeless in Hands Across America last Sunday gave those of us at Crisis Ministry new hope for the future. Crisis Ministries of Princeton and Trenton have for nine years provided aid to those in need.

For example, in 1985, Crisis Ministry provided emergency housing to 120 persons at a cost of $2,340. Rent and mortgage assistance to prevent homelessness totalled $14,000. So far in 1986, 44 persons have received emergency housing for $866. Emergency meals were provided for 184 persons for $710, 197 bags of food have been given out — 101 in Princeton and 90 in Trenton. The donated food would have cost $4,925.

The statistics show not only the existing need, but the funds required to meet those needs. We at Crisis Ministry not only thank the community for its support, but urge those who want to help locally to donate both food and money toward the work of Crisis Ministry.

Animals, Trees Focus Of Watersheds' Programs

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association invites children age 6-8 years to learn about animals Wednesday, June 11, in a program called "Animal Games." Cindy Roche will lead children through games that have educational concepts pertaining to animal life, such as what elements are needed for survival of a deer population, predator-prey relationships and other topics. The program will begin at 4:40 and last one hour.

Pre-school children age 3-5 are invited to participate in an educational program called Fun with Trees on Thursday, June 12. Two identical sessions will be held, one at 10 and the other at 1. Children will be introduced to the world of trees with a short walk on the Watershed's reserve, followed by games and a craft activity emphasizing tree life.

Registration is required for both programs, and there is a fee for each. For more information or to register, call the Watershed Association at 737-3735.

Four N.J. Teachers Set To Win Princeton Prizes

Four New Jersey high school teachers will receive Princeton Prizes for Distinguished Secondary School Teaching at the University's 239th Commencement exercises on Tuesday.

The award winners are Lois Hirshkowitz, a teacher of English and Latin and the founding director of Lakewood Prep in Howell; Shlomo Kovitz, a teacher of Judaic studies, physics and mathematics at The Frisch School in Paramus; William Peter Nelson, a teacher of instrumental music and the band director at Eastside High School in Paterson; and Lumina Pacheco, a teacher of English at Elizabeth High School in Elizabeth.

Established in 1959 by an anonymous gift from a Princeton alumnus, the prizes recognize "fruitful teaching and devoted service" in New Jersey schools. Nominations are solicited from public and private schools, and winners are selected by a committee that includes representatives of New Jersey schools, the state Department of Education, and Princeton University. The committee assesses the candidates' classroom effectiveness, pioneering teaching activities, involvement in educating students of greater and lesser gifts, and impact on students both in and out of class.

In addition to an award of $2,000 to each winner, the prize includes a grant of $1,000 made to each of their schools for the purchase of library books.

Shop Again Welcomes Traveling Zoo on Wheels

The Philadelphia Zoo-On-Wheels will visit H. Gross & Co., Palmer Square, on Thursday, June 12, at 3:30 p.m.

"This year's theme is 'Going A.P.E. — Animals, People, Ecology,'" and the exhibit will feature reptiles, birds, and mammals.

Everyone will have a chance to pet a ferret, prairie dog, or king snake and learn about exotic animals and endangered species.

The program will be led by naturalists from the Philadelphia Zoological Society.

HOT SUMMER LOAN SALE.

GET YOURS BEFORE IT MELTS AWAY.

Between now and June 30th, you have a lot of hot reasons to borrow money from New Jersey National Bank. We have $20,000,000 to lend, and you can get your share for any reason at all.

During our Loan Sale you can borrow at a mere 9.8% Annual Percentage Rate* and take up to 60 months (5 years) to pay it back. Make those changes to your home you've only been thinking about. Take the vacation of your dreams. Buy a car or even a sailboat. Get a jump on college tuition. Then repay at the same low fixed rate, with fixed monthly payments.

We can even give you approval within 24 hours so you won't lose any of your summer time waiting to hear from us.

True, you can enjoy the people and services at New Jersey National Bank season after season, year after year. But an opportunity like this comes along only once in a while. Don't miss out.

Stop into your neighborhood New Jersey National Bank branch and apply for a Hot Summer Loan. Or call our LoanLine at 1-800-542-5626.

9.8% APR ON SUMMER LOANS THRU JUNE 30.

*Example: If you borrow $10,000 over a 5-year term at 9.8% APR, your monthly payment will be $211.48. The 9.8% rate is based on an automatic deduction from your checking account. (Without this deduction, the APR is 10.3%. Using the above example, your monthly payment will then be $213.94.)

Plans Are Completed For June Calypso Fete

The traditional pre-fete dinner dance, entitled "Calypso Cruise," will take place Friday night, June 13, the evening before the Saturday Fete. Its theme will be the sounds and sights of a tropical cruise.

A steel drummer will perform during cocktail hour, from 6 to 8, and dinner and dancing will follow. The Princeton High School Studio Band will perform.

For reservations, contact Calypso Cruise, 874 Mercer

Road, Princeton, N.Y. 08540. Cost is $30 per person.

The Fete will get off to a running start at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 14, with the traditional 10K race. Well-known runner Jim Ryun will be among the entrants. He will give a talk on running and fitness after the race.

All entrants will be eligible for a trip for two to the Bahamas, as well as other prizes in all age categories.

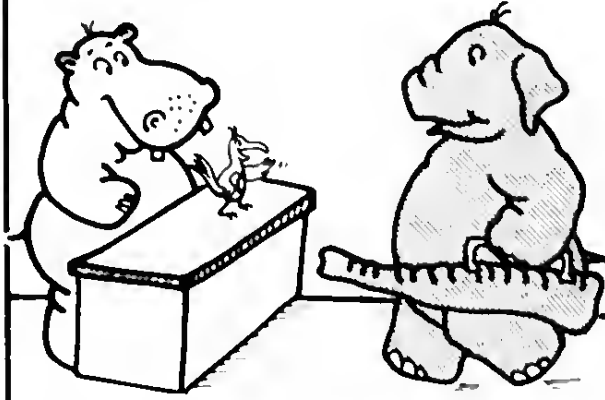

Those interested in participating may pre-register by sending a $6 entry fee (checks should be payable to June Fete) to Fete Race Committee, 172 South Harrison Street, Princeton, N.J. 08540.

Plant enthusiasts at the Fete will find an assortment of annuals, perennials, hanging baskets and herbs in the Palm Tree Plantation tent. Statuary and patio plants will also be available, and children will be able to choose from a selection of "child-priced" plants. Garden experts will be available throughout the day to answer questions.

Down Island Traders, a lane of shops, will feature such items as gourmet foods, kitchen gadgets, baskets and jewelry. The Fete auction will have as its title this year, "La Exposicion Grande," and will feature such items as an antique sideboard, a mink coat and a 100-year-old Steinway piano.

Activities for children will include fortune telling, a maze, and pony and fire engine rides. A limbo contest will award prizes in three age categories.

There will be the usual wide assortment of foods, with many local restaurants represented. Entertainment will include several bands, magicians, jugglers and a mime troupe.

In addition to on-site parking, a shuttle service will be provided. Stops will be the Public Library, Spruce Circle, the Harrison Street Firehouse, and Redding Circle. Special parking for the handicapped will be available, and there will be a golf cart to transport persons who have difficulty walking. Parking will cost $1; admission to the Fete is free.

Benefit Auction Sunday At Farm in Pennington

A benefit auction for the Hopewell Reading and Recreation Service, which provides a summer program to Trenton youth, will take place Sunday at 2:30 p.m. — rain or shine — at McDougald's Farm, Old Mill Road.

Auctioneer Woody Woodford will lift the gavel on such items as gourmet international dinners, a farm birthday party, a family portrait sitting, and a house in Spain.

Outings to be auctioned include a Seventh Avenue Safari, a boat-ride brunch on the Delaware, a behind-the-scenes tour of the Philadelphia Natural History Museum, and a parterre box with lunch and drinks at the Monmouth Races.

Youngsters will enjoy free hay rides, horse rides, games, and a menagerie of farm animals. A grilled supper will be available.

Strawberry Festival Due In One-Room Schoolhouse

The Griggstown Historical Society will hold its fourth annual Strawberry Festival on Saturday from 5 to 8 p.m. at the one-room schoolhouse behind Griggstown Reformed Church on Canal Road in Griggstown.

Available for sale will be strawberry shortcake with whipped cream, home-made cheesecake, strawberry tarts, waffles, jams and preserves, hand-dipped chocolate-covered strawberries, fresh berries, and punch.

Traveling with Children Is Subject of Workshop

A workshop entitled "Traveling with the Kids" will be held at the Contemporary Psychology Institute, Route 206, on Tuesday from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

The workshop is designed to prepare parents for any eventuality in traveling with children and to point the way to a successful family vacation.

For further information, call 924-8010.

Registration Underway At Lakeside Montessori

Registration for the fall infant and toddler child care programs at Lakeside Montessori Center is now underway. Children six weeks to 18 months are eligible for the infant program and those 18 to 36 months may enroll in the toddler program.

Summer Programs Listed By The Lewis School

The Lewis School invites applications for admission to the summer session which begins on June 30 and runs through August 1. Screening and interviews will take place June 9 through June 21.

The school is a non-profit, independent day school dedicated to the instruction of bright and gifted students of all ages with specific learning differences and dyslexia. The organization, now in its 12th year, has three components — an educational testing clinic, the teaching school for full-time study and the afternoon tutorial school. Instruction is offered for pre-school through college age and adult students.

Full-time summer school runs from 9 to 11:30 daily. Students may register for all or part of the term for intensive programs in language, speech, reading, writing, math and creative writing. The language programs — basic, intermediate, and advanced — are geared to capable students who are not reaching their potential in school. The programs develop and reinforce consistent building of learning skills — reading, spelling, comprehension, vocabulary, written expression and handwriting as well as study and organizational skills.

Individual math instruction, from general to advanced, is offered at all levels. Perceptual training is given at all levels.

Featured this summer are two new programs in creative reading and writing for students grades 5 through 8, and one in college learning skills preparation. Creative Reading and Writing is designed to motivate and organize young readers and encourage a sense of purpose and pleasure in independent reading. It will help students who may have original ideas, but become confused and frustrated when attempting to verbalize or write them down in stories, reports and other assignments. The program will include several workshops given by local authors, a journalist and a librarian.

WINNERS IN PENNINGTON RACE: Overall winner in the Five-Mile-Race held Saturday during Pennington Day is 28-year-old John Parker of Titusville, about to raise his hands in triumph. A 1976 graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School where he was a standout cross country runner, Parker was first among 158 finishers in 25 minutes, 55 seconds. The first woman to finish the race was Laurene Jones, 36, of Titusville, who was timed in 32 minutes, 43 seconds. Winner of the men's 33-39 age division and third overall, Bill Lauder of Yardley was not around to pick up his trophy; he had left to attend his own wedding at noon — less than two hours after finishing the race.

For high school and college age students, the summer program offers a course of study to develop reliable, productive problem solving strategies in college level reading, writing and organizational skills and in time-study management. S.A.T. preparation and assistance in the college application process, essay writing, and general planning for college are aspects of the program as well.

The Lewis Clinic and School is located at 39 Magnolia Lane in the former Littlebrook School. For information regarding testing, summer and fall admissions, and afternoon tutorials, call the admissions office at 924-8120.

Ellen Filler daughter of Douglas and Dee Filler of Van Wyck Drive, a student at Ithaca College, has been selected as one of ten students to receive the 1985-86 Campus Life Awards. The awards honor graduating students who have made significant contributions to the college community.

Area students have won varsity letters for spring sports at The Lawrenceville School.

From Princeton they are Dominique Callan and Paul W. Jamieson, tennis; James F. Bishop Jr., Jonathon S. Kahn, and Justin A. Mraz, golf; Thomas R. Piskowski, baseball; and Christopher J. McCabe, William R. O'Leary, John M.B. Sheehan, Ian A.S. Smith, and Nicholas W. Woodfield, lacrosse.

From Lawrenceville, Darwin K. Hayes, track; Kurt R. Carpenter, Michael J. Duffy, Keith C. Jones, baseball; and Steven W. Napp and Lance R. Savage, lacrosse.

The Rutgers University Class of 1931 award, for outstanding service to the school and the alumni association, will be presented to three graduates of the class of 1976, including Melanie Willoughby of Princeton and Bruce A. Scherer of Pennington.

The Alumni Trustee Award, presented to individuals who give distinguished service to the community, will be presented to two graduates, including Phillip Alampi, '34, of Hopewell.

Dennis Thompson, 347 Prospect Avenue, a professor of politics at Princeton University, has been appointed the Whitehead Professor in the Department of Government and at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.

It is expected that, in addition to administering a new Program in Professional Ethics, Prof. Thompson will teach undergraduate and graduate courses in political ethics and public policy.

Richard Middleton, Ph.D., of Princeton, has returned from a five-month tour of the Far East, where he served as a visiting professor of microbiology at Nagoya University, Nagoya, Japan. Dr. Middleton is a professor of microbiology at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey — School of Osteopathic Medicine.

Airman 1st Class Lisa A. Jolly, daughter of E. Irene Jolly, 4-K Holly House, has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

David L. Holmes, Ph.D., executive director of the Eden Programs for autistic youth and adults, presented a session on community resources and services at a conference on vocational rehabilitation of persons with autism held in Rockville, Md.

The conference was sponsored by the Regional Rehabilitation Continuing Education Program and the Rehabilitation Research and Training Center at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., and the Rehabilitation Services Administration Regional Office located in Philadelphia. The purpose of the conference was to explore new ways of improving the evaluation, job training and placement services for persons with autism.

Rebecca Milton, director of adult services at Eden, also attended the conference. For the past three years Eden has operated Project W.E.R.C. (work, education and resource center), which provides education and employment opportunities for adults with autism. Eden has recently opened a second Project W.E.R.C. facility on Route One in South Brunswick.

Mrs. Graham M. Brush, Jr., Harrison Street, has been elected to a two-year term as recording secretary of the Garden Club of America.

A past president of the Garden Club of Princeton, Mrs. Brush has served as a director of the Garden Club of America for the past two years.

Air Force 1st Lt. Laurie H. Fenstermacher, daughter of retired Air Force Col. James E. and Ruth G. Hart, 516 Bergen Street, Lawrenceville, has arrived for duty with the 416th Civil Engineering Squadron, Griffiss Air Force Base, N.Y.

First Lt. Christopher V. Roan, son of Carol K. Roan, 9 Pondview Drive, Plainsboro, has been awarded the Expert Field Medical Badge at Fort Bragg, N.C.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

NOTES ON PRUNING—

with Sam DeTuro Woodwinds Associates

Now is a wonderful time to prune your evergreens and flowering shrubs, but remember that all foundation planting require different methods of pruning, based on each plant's distinct characteristic.

EVERGREENS — prune to eliminate winter-killed parts and those nibbled away by deer. This will promote thick growth, help develop a good shape and keep them within bounds. Pine, fir and spruce develop compactness when 1/2 to 3/4 of new growth (candles) are removed. Hemlock becomes bushy when tops are cut out. Arborvitae, yew, juniper, chamaecypariss tend to such fast growth that they block views and darken rooms. Removing the top leader or leaders will help develop better lower growth and prevent legginess. Removal of excess lateral branches opens up evergreens, admits more air and light and promotes healthy growth.

FLOWERING SHRUBS need annual pruning, once the blossoms have gone to keep them in shape and encourage development of new wood as well as enhancing vigorous growth. WOODWINDS recommends pruning azaleas lightly, thinning dense surface growth, except where dead branches are removed. Andromeda can be reduced in height by heavy pruning following blossoming. Rhododendrons seldom require pruning, when needed, however, cut only above the whorls of leaves. Lilacs should be thinned very carefully, as blossoms appear only on two and three year old wood. Flowering almond requires renewing each year by pruning out old wood, and cutting back flowering wood after blossoming. Following flowering, forsythia should have long shoots cut back and old wood thinned out at ground level. Weigelia canes should be thinned and flowering branches reduced to encourage strong wood for next year's blooms.

We at WOODWINDS (924-3500) stress the importance of shaping your trees and shrubs to their natural symmetry and recommend you engage the service of a trained arborist to carry out any extensive pruning work. If you want to try your hand at pruning, perhaps you might consider our recommendations as your consultant. MOST IMPORTANT: don't forget to use sharp shears and don't ever whack or tear the bark. Make clean cuts at a slant... a basic principle is correct pruning technique.

Bond Issue

The higher interest rates were sought by the two brokerage concerns.

Of the $7.4 total, $6 million is the Township's share of the $12 million sewer rehabilitation program, with another $600,000 for engineering and right-of-way acquisition to run a new line to serve the Peterson tract and other development presently served by the Montgomery sewer treatment plant. Another $554,000 is allocated for road reconstruction and $200,000 for the fire department, including the Township's share of a new fire truck, safety equipment and architectural plans for a new fire house.

Other Business. In other business, Committee introduced an ordinance to amend the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority agreement between the six participating municipalities to allow for a five-year averaging of the debt service charge. The purpose is to "minimize the peaks and valleys," in the words of Township Administrator Pascale, between charges to municipalities that result from wet years, with excess water getting into leaky systems, and dry years of normal effluent.

The public hearing on the amendment will be Monday, July 7. Mayor Winthrop S. Pike noted that the amendment only takes effect if all five other municipalities agree and adopt similar amendments. A public hearing will also be held July 7 on an amendment to the agreement with Montgomery Township that reserves Princeton's remaining allocation in the Montgomery-Rocky Hill-Princeton treatment plant for the affordable housing project on the Peterson tract.

According to Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser, Princeton has claim to some 16,500 unallocated gallons of effluent that could be processed by this plant. The agreement with Montgomery specifies that each Princeton application can be no larger than one-third the remaining total allocation. The 16,500 gallons would serve the first third of Princeton Community Housing's planned development of the Peterson tract, Mr. Kiser says.

By the time the remaining units are built, a new pumping station and a new trunkline will have been constructed that will take sewage from this and other areas now served by the Montgomery plant to the SBRSA River Road plant. In recommending the ordinance amendment, Mayor Pike said, "Frankly this is the least we can do to help move the PCH project along." Committee agreed, unanimously.

Zoning Change Tabled. A public hearing on changing the zoning on the Arcaro tract from OR-3 (office/residential) to RM (moderately dense residential) was tabled until a later, unspecified date. Angelo Arcaro, owner of the 55-acre tract off Cherry Valley Road which a Cherry Hill developer has an option to purchase and has proposed for some 60 small office buildings, has hired attorney James Bennett of the firm Voorhees Bennett & Wherry in Pennington.

Mr. Bennett appeared before the Planning Board last week as it was about to recommend the change and asked for a postponement until his client had time to study the matter and give his own input on the disposition of his land. "Where has your client been all this time?" Planning Board chair Hans Sander asked, but he nonetheless granted the request. The Township cannot act on the zoning/land use change until it receives the Planning Board's recommendation.

Also postponed was the introduction of the new smoke alarm ordinance, which would require dual system smoke alarms on all new single family homes and on new and existing multi-family dwellings. "Multi-family" is defined in the proposed ordinance as "more than one or two units."

Dwight O. North called Committee's attention to a letter from Township resident Lee Merrill urging the Township to purchase the Mountain Lakes tract for open space (see Mailbox).

Bebe Neuwirth

Bebe began ballet class with Audree Estey at age 5 and in time became a member of the Princeton Regional Ballet Company. Her first role was that of the baby mice in The Nutcracker, and she played every role suitable to her age as she grew up. She also gained valuable experience touring with the company.

Enrolled in Chapin School from kindergarten through grade eight, she is particularly remembered for an incident that occurred in her eighth grade year. Cast as Becky in a school production of Tom Sawyer, she was wearing a pretty pinafore and acting appropriately feminine on the night of the performance, until the third act, when things began to go wrong — lines were flubbed and cues missed.

Suddenly, Bebe as Becky interjected loudly and forcefully, "Holy (obscenity deleted), Tom! Do what Aunt Polly says to do!" She was suspended for three days and required to write an apology to the board of trustees. When her parents asked her what made her do it, she responded calmly, "The play was in trouble. I had to save the play!"

Miss Neuwirth spent her ninth grade year at PDS, appearing in Bye Bye Birdie, before she transferred to the High School. There she danced and sang in Anything Goes, played Nurse Ratchit in One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, Bianca in Kiss Me Kate, and the mayor's fat wife in The Music Man. There was an unusually strong group of student thespians at PHS during her years, who not only brought talent to regular productions, but who also produced in-house television shows together.

Meanwhile she appeared in three PJB musicals, singing and dancing in the ensemble scenes for Oklahoma, and Carousel, and graduating to the featured role of Ermengarde, Mr. Vander Gelder's niece, in Hello Dolly! During the summers she worked backstage at Theatre Intime, doing everything from painting scenery to acting as a go-fer.

Broadway Ambitions. Miss Neuwirth wanted to leave home for New York and the big time at age 13. Although her early ambition was to dance with the American Ballet Theatre, she realized somewhere along the line that was not going to happen. When she saw a performance of Bob Fosse's Pippin on Broadway during her high school years, she knew she would dance on Broadway.

When she graduated from Princeton High in 1976, eager to begin auditioning, her parents, nervous about an 18-year-old being on her own in New York City, managed to persuade her to spend a year attending the Juilliard School of Drama. But one year was the limit. "She was too restless, too eager to begin," acknowledges her mother.

Miss Neuwirth's first paid job after Juilliard was with the international touring company of the musical A Chorus Line, initially as understudy for Sheila, the over-the-hill chorus girl, and for Cassie, the number one lead. But she quickly moved up to play Sheila. She was 19, the youngest member of the troupe, playing the oldest role, and she continued to play Sheila for close to three years in cities and towns all over the United States and in Canada.

Coming back to Broadway, she again played Sheila (and occasionally Cassie), including a memorable performance to an audience that included the American hostages shortly after their release from Iran. Her next role was Anita in a revival of West Side Story, in which she toured France and Italy.

Playing a boom-boom dancer in Little Me in New York, she caught the eye of choreographer Bob Fosse, who suggested she audition for a replacement role in his Dancin' for which she had tried out along with hundreds of others in the open auditions in 1978. She got the part and felt "deeply honored."

It is Bob Fosse's ex-wife, Gwen Verdon, the original 1966 Charity, the dance hall hostess who wants to be loved, who has faithfully reproduced his choreography in the current Sweet Charity. In it Miss Neuwirth plays the part of Nickie Pignatelli, her tough sidekick, a brassy tart who has all the funny lines, which are delivered in a Brooklyn accent.

Miss Neuwirth's publicity agent says, "You can't take your eyes off her on stage, and off-stage it is difficult to believe this hussy, who is all legs and looks 5'10" is the beautiful, fresh-looking, young, rather slight Bebe Neuwirth." Married in 1984 to actor/director Paul Nicholas, Miss Neuwirth spent last winter on the west coast to be near her husband, who was then working with The Ensemble Theatre West. She played several television roles, ranging from a humorless, repressed psychoanalyst in Cheers, to the frazzled, confused receptionist in Simon and Simon, to a cold, insensitive modern dance teacher in Fame.

The variety illustrates Miss Neuwirth's range, as does her performance as a comic singer/actress in Martin Charnin's comedy cabaret Upstairs at O'Neal's, where she performed for nine months to rave reviews.

She also played the original Leopard in out-of-town tryouts of The Just So Stories, and has performed in workshop for a show called Kicks and for a comedy by N.Y. Times writer Russell Baker called 13 Days 7 E's midway. Formerly 10 for which backers are being sought for a Broadway production.

Although she continues her dance training with daily classes, Miss Neuwirth thinks of herself nowadays as a comedic character actress. The publicity agent, who says she doesn't take clients unless "they're full of talent," says of Miss Neuwirth, "She can dance like a dream, she sings magnificently, and she has this terrific acting talent."

"She's a triple threat, who can bring back the big Broadway musical, if they'll ever write the right material for her. She can be a big Broadway star; she's on her way."

Less prone to promotion "hype," Milton Lyon remembers Miss Neuwirth as "a wonderful, wonderful talent, and a wonderful girl. She has a 'belt' voice, but she knows what to do with it. And she has a wonderful, dry, sardonic wit." In the PJB productions, which he directed, "she was always decidedly noticeable," Mr. Lyon adds.

Commenting on the Tony Award, remarks, "She's basically talented, and she works hard, and it's lovely to have it (receiving the Tony Award) work out this way."

—Barbara L. Johnson

Space Is Still Available In Summer Gymnastics

Space is available in YWCA summer gymnastics programs, which begin June 23. Programs are available for toddlers to teenagers.

Activities in "Fun for Ones" for age 15-27 months include climbing, jumping, throwing, and basic locomotor movements to enhance coordination and build strength. "Kindergym," for 3½-4½-year-olds, encourages movement, exploration and muscle coordination to promote self-confidence.

The next level is "Klein-kinderturnen," for 4½-5½-year-olds, a gymnastic orientation that emphasizes locomotor skills, eye-hand and eye-foot coordination, serving as an introduction to pre-gymnastics for children 4½-6. Youth gymnastics (7-12 years) seeks to develop a child's skills on all four Olympic apparatus, bars, beam, horse and floor. This class is divided into boys and girls of beginner, advanced beginner and intermediate levels.

Girls age 8-14 may enjoy "Modern Rhythmic Gymnastics," which were introduced in the 1984 Olympics. These consist of choreographed dance routines, using hand apparatus, ribbons, hoops, ropes, clubs and balls.

OBITUARIES

Born in Ardmore, Pa., Mr. Oliver had lived in Princeton most of his life. He retired after 25 years of service from RCA Research Laboratories. A former member of the Shiloh Baptist Church in Trenton, he was a popular saxophone jazz musician during the big band era and performed in the area and at many of the Princeton University eating clubs.

Father of the late William Oliver, he is survived by his wife, Esther Oliver, two daughters, Marceline Yates of Ewing and Barbara Williams of San Diego, Calif.; six grandchildren, Robert Williams and Macia Lopez, both of Trenton, Donna Williams and Tracy Epps, both of San Diego, Calif., and Rhonna and India Yates, both of Ewing; and four great-grandchildren.

The service and burial were private. The Rev. Michael Nabors, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the Rev. Fred Tennie, pastor of Mount Pisgah AME Church, co-officiated.

Hosella Freeman Holmes, 84, of Princeton, died May 26 in Helene Fuld Medical Center. Born in Princeton, Mrs. Holmes was a lifelong area resident. She attended Wilberforce College in Ohio.

She was a member of First Baptist Church and Aaron Chapter No. 8 Order of the Eastern Star. She was a charter member of Khufu Court No. 118.

Surviving are her husband, Raymond D. Holmes; two daughters, Ernestine Craig and Olga R. Greene, both of Princeton; a sister, Mary F. Boykin of Chicago; five grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

The service was held at First Baptist Church, the Rev. Michael Nabors, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Samuel Sculerati, 77, of Lanoka Harbor, formerly of Princeton, died June 2 at home after a lengthy illness.

Born in Princeton, Mr. Sculerati lived here most of his life before moving to Lanoka Harbor seven years. He retired after 53 years as a self-employed taxi limousine operator.

Surviving are his wife, Mildred W. Szelek Sculerati; four sons, Samuel Jr. of Lanoka Harbor, James of Schaumburg, Ill., Robert of Linden, and Thomas of Lanoka Harbor; three grandchildren; three sisters, Angeline Diaforli of Princeton Junction, and Marion Wyble and Josephine Tessein, both of Princeton; two brothers, James Sculerati of New Brunswick and Anthony Sculerati of Princeton.

The service will be held Thursday at 10:15 from the Kimble Funeral Home, 1 Hamilton Avenue. Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated at 11 at St. Paul's Church. Burial in Princeton Cemetery will be at the convenience of the family.

Friends are invited to call this Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

Hubert J. Moriarty, 59, of Stockton Street, died June 1 in the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center.

Born in New York City, he lived in Newark before moving to Princeton in 1975. A veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, he was a member of the Newark Police Department for eight years.

Survivors include his wife, Irene E. Moriarty; four sons, Eric P. of Deerfield, Ill., Gerard M. of Hollywood, Fla., Rich of Plainsboro, and Paul A. Moriarty of Slippery Rock, Pa.; three sister, Nora Sunday of Brewster, N.Y., Katie Forina of New York City, and Helen Cunningham of Dundalk, Md.; and two granddaughters.

The service was private.

Marlene B. Powell, 50, of Chicago, formerly of Princeton, died May 31 in St. Mary's Hospital, Madison, Wis.

Born in Princeton, Mrs. Powell lived here before moving to Chicago 18 years ago. She was employed as a legal secretary for the law firm of McDermott, Will and Emery in Chicago.

She was a former member of the Mount Pisgah AME Church in Princeton and a member of the Gammon United Methodist Church in Chicago. She was a charter member and former basileus of the Epsilon No. XI Zeta chapter, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Inc. of Trenton and was active in the AA organization in Chicago.

Surviving are a daughter, Denise Bullock of Princeton, a son, Dwight M. Bullock of Arlington, Va., her mother, Nancy E. Scott of Princeton; two sisters, Gilherta Scott of Plainsboro and Marsha V. Winston of Ewing Township; a granddaughter, Ayana Miller of Princeton; and her paternal grandmother, Hattie V. Scott of Philadelphia.

The service will be held this Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Mount Pisgah AME Church, with the Rev. John W. Johnson, presiding elder of the Camden and Trenton district, officiating. Burial will be Thursday at 10 in Franklin Memorial Park. Friends may call Wednesday from 6 until time of the service at the church.

PLANNING ART SHOW: Sonja Hildrew of Campion Fine Art, Pat Harding and Steve Harrison of Princeton United Methodist Church show one of the art works that will be on display and for sale this weekend and early next week. Along with a patron's preview and a silent auction, the event will help raise funds for church youth to participate in an Appalachian summer service project.

RELIGION

New Director Is Named To Clergy Career Center

The Rev. Dr. Roy Lewis has been named the new director of the Northeast Career Center on Witherspoon Street. The Center provides services for clergy and professional church workers for a number of denominations.

Founded in 1965 by the United Presbyterian Church, the center soon became ecumenical and has since served as a model for 12 other centers across the country, accredited by the Church Career Development Council. It is governed by a board of trustees representing the major denominations served.

Dr. Lewis, 48, comes to the career center from the Pennsylvania Foundation for Pastoral Counseling, a network of 12 pastoral counseling centers in southeastern Pennsylvania which he founded in 1974 and directed for 12 years. He is an ordained elder in the United Methodist Church and member of the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference.

He did his undergraduate work at Temple University, earned a M. Div. degree from Drew Theological Seminary, a Th.M. degree from Crozer Seminary, and a D.Min. degree from Drew. He has substantial clinical training and experience in counseling and therapy. He is a clinical member of the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapists and a Diplomate in the the American Association of Pastoral Counselors. He has served the United Methodist Church in many capacities, including pastorates, chaplaincies, and a variety of conference committees.

Dr. Lewis succeeds the Rev. Dr. Robert G. Foulkes, who is retiring. Director of the Northeast Career Center since 1972, Dr. Foulkes was a member of the Northeast Career Center's Advisory Board from its beginning in October, 1965, until 1968, when he was appointed chairman of the special committee on Career Services to the General Council of the United Presbyterian Church, USA. Dr. Foulkes was a representative of the UPCUSA to the organizing board of the Church Career Development Council in April, 1969, and remained a member of that board until 1972.

Prior to coming to the Northeast Career Center, Dr. Foulkes served as the director of the Office of Church Occupations Counseling for the UPCUSA, as pastor of the Newtown Presbyterian Church, Newtown, Pa., as chaplain and director of the Pastoral Counseling Program of the Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia, and as hospital chaplain for the Philadelphia Presbytery.

For 20 years Dr. Foulkes supervised Princeton Seminary students in clinical pastoral education in institutional and parish settings. He did his undergraduate and doctoral work at Temple University and holds a theological degree from Princeton Seminary.

A resident of Rocky Hill, Dr. Foulkes will be associated with the career center as consultant after his retirement.

Associate Is Installed At Hopewell Presbyterian

The Rev. Kimberly C. Richter, who has served Hopewell Presbyterian Church as an assistant pastor for nearly two years was installed recently as an associate. She was unanimously elected to the position at a congregational meeting held May 4.

Born and raised in Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Richter is a graduate of both Birmingham-Southern College and Columbia Theological Seminary. At Columbia, Mrs. Richter was the recipient of the Harvard A. Anderson Fellowship for Graduate Study, a fellowship she may use for further graduate work. She was ordained into the ministry of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) in 1984 and has served at the Hopewell church since then.

Her major responsibilities include work with the board of deacons, ministry to youth and Christian education, and pastoral care.

Mrs. Richter is married to the Rev. Don Richter, who is working toward his Ph.D. in Christian education at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Participating in the service were several members, pastors, and elders, of the Presbytery of New Brunswick. The Rev. Rhona Jones, a pastor in the United Reformed Church of England and a friend of Mrs. Richter, preached the sermon. The Rev. Douglas J. Brouwer, pastor of the church, gave the charge to Mrs. Richter, and the Rev. Patricia Daley, interim associate pastor at the Flemington Presbyterian Church, gave the charge to the congregation.

Art Show, Auction to Aid Project for Appalachia

The Princeton United Methodist Church will hold an art show Saturday from 10 to 5, and Monday and Tuesday, June 9 and 10, from 10 to 4 each day. The show will be held in the Sanford Davis Room, accessible from Nassau Street.

A preview and opportunity to meet the artists will be held Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. On Saturday there will also be a silent auction of high-quality items and services. Bidding will start at 10 and close at 4:30. The Youth Club will sell hoagies, soda and popcorn on the front lawn from 10 to 3.

Proceeds of the show will be used to help members of the Youth Club participate in a summer service project in Appalachia.

Bulletin Notes

Ira Silverman, president of the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College, Wyncote, Pa., will speak Sunday, June 15, at 11:15 at Nassau Presbyterian Church, about dissent and religious persecution in the Soviet Union.

Dr. Silverman has served the past two years as chairman of the steering committee for the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament, Princeton, and is presently chairman of the national Shalom Center, which he helped found at the rabbinical college.

The Separated and Divorced Catholics Support Group at St. Paul's Church will meet Monday at 8 in the St. Paul School cafeteria. Sister Andrea Muller, a pastoral associate in the Newark Archdiocese, will speak on "Forming Life-Giving Relationships."

All interested persons are invited. For further information call Carol Spencer at 896-3456.

LIGHT HORSE HILL FARM - HOPEWELL

For well over 200 years, this lovely farm has nestled peacefully in the gentle hills of Hopewell. Interrupted briefly during the chaos of the Revolution by a visit from "Light Horse" Harry Lee, it earned a place in the history of the area. Fenced meadows, timbered barns and spring house shelter the pool, terraces, gardens and house. A sensitive addition blends with the original residence and the integrity of the architectural details has been completely preserved. Two living rooms, distinguished by carved mantels, dining with walk-in fireplace, study, five bedrooms with two additional fireplaces, kitchen, and 2 full plus 2 half baths complete the interior. All on 9.2 acres.

$700,000GREENWAY TERRACE

In the style of Kings, this tudor mansion in Brookstone is impressive from its broad circular driveway to the half timber walls, slate roof, and leaded and stained glass windows. Entry way with imported tile, large living room, dining room, eat-in kitchen. Upstairs, six bedrooms, three baths, including a master bedroom suite with deck adjoining, den, and Jacuzzi. Three fireplaces, three-car garage, two-acre lot.

$895,000PRINCETON BOROUGH LUXURY TOWNHOUSE

Newly listed three bedroom townhouse with private fenced garden in quiet Markham Square near Nassau Street, brick and cedar shingle Hillier Group design. 3,026 square feet overall including story and a half living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, family room with covered porch, two and one half baths, laundry room, basement, two-car radio controlled garage, hardwood oak floors, central air, central vacuum, and Association services.

$325,000WESTERN BOROUGH

On quiet, tree lined Westcott Road a traditional looking Colonial with lots of up-to-date surprises. A two story living room, a master bedroom suite with fireplace in the tree tops, and a sparkling swimming pool are just a few of the spectacular features. Four more bedrooms, a second living room, dining room, a separate study and a sun porch and kitchen with breakfast rooms complete the picture. This house is ideal for a sizeable family.

Stone Spring Farm

New Listing

A Horse Farm - the very name brings pleasant visions of beautiful thoroughbreds grazing in green pastures. Picturesque white fencing, reminiscent of Blue Grass Country, enclose these pastures and line the long drive to the handsome stone Colonial. Surrounded by 35 beautiful acres, it offers gracious living with the delightful ambiance of Colonial days. The keeping room with its walk-in fireplace was part of the original house built in 1727. Additions were added later continuing the original design. A delightful guest cottage, quaint spring house, magnificent stone bank barn with six stalls and Sylvan pool complete this ideal farm estate. $800,000

IN HOPEWELL there is a large job where the reproductions of paintings are lifted off their paper and incorporated onto artists' canvas under an atmosphere of pressure. They are then stretched by hand over wooden stretchers to hang as is or framed. The results are stunning pieces of art work as rich in texture and color as the oils from which the reproductions were made.

You are invited to come and see this extraordinary transformation in progress for yourself and if you've always wanted a Monet but couldn't afford one, you may come away with the perfect compromise.

Life-long Princeton Resident Will Begin a New Career: Marty Lombardo to Prepare for Christian Missionary Work

At 6 a.m. on Saturday, June 21, Marty Lombardo and his family will leave Princeton in a 1969 Plymouth that has been given to them and head for Dallas. There the Lombardos — Marty, his wife Cathy, and daughter Gretchen — will all enroll in ministerial studies at Christ for the Nations, an interdenominational school that focuses on missionary work.

Marty, 45, leaves a town in which he was born, raised, went to school, and served on Borough Council for nine years. When he graduates in Dallas next year, he, Cathy, and Gretchen (now a senior at Princeton High School) will go where they are called — perhaps Africa, says Marty — but he admits to a "hidden desire to come back to Princeton as minister for the Lord." He quickly adds that it's a "selfish desire," and that he will yield to where God wants him to go.

Marty Lombardo
"Princeton will have a special place in my heart."

Thinner now than during his years on council, Marty says, "I love this community; it has been good to me. Princeton will always have a special place in my heart."

Marty became a born-again Christian two years ago and has spent the past year studying at the Christ for the Nations campus in Stony Brook, New York. He says that most people who knew him as a youngster aren't surprised by this turn in his life, and recalls that when he was in seventh grade he thought about entering the priesthood and even built an altar in his room.

A Near-Decade on Council. Marty served on council from 1970-79, years of political turmoil. "I was controversial," he says with a smile that just stops short of a chuckle. "I went down on more 5-1 votes — I was the one."

"I made mistakes on council, but I had a tremendous obsession that the poor had to be helped."

He explains that the poor of Princeton were "hidden. They refused to go for welfare, but I knew they were all over town. I grew up with them, lived with them. Others on council thought I was out of my mind."

"It was very lonely, saying what I had to say."

Seven years after leaving town government, Marty says the poor are still here, but they are taking advantage of more programs now. Contrary to what many people believe, he says, they live not only in the Witherspoon neighborhood and tree streets, but all over town.

"They came here long ago and bought houses when all you needed was a handshake and a promise to make monthly payments. There are a lot of old timers who just want to die in their homes."

A Princeton Family. Marty is the son of Martin and Barbara Lombardo. His father is now retired after working for many years as a parking attendant for Palmer Square.

His parents, on retirement income, want to stay in their Nassau Street home, and Marty worries about how long they can do this. He has always been concerned with the plight of senior citizens, and says his proudest achievements on council were the snow shoveling project for the elderly and helping set up Crosstown 62 and the Commission on Aging.

"It's not just government, but churches and synagogues. When I started on council not one church in town had a senior citizen program. Now there are many."

How Elderly Can Remain. In his activist approach, Marty has always embodied the politics of the sixties and early seventies. Now, even as he prepares to leave, he is eager to discuss several ideas that might help older citizens remain in Princeton.

One suggestion is that the Borough buy houses in town and convert them to homes for the elderly. The houses would have common kitchens and provide a place to live as well as companionship to ease the loneliness of old age.

Another idea, appropriate for larger houses, would be for seniors to sell their houses to the Borough. They would then continue to live in them, joined by other elderly people.

At least some of the money to do this, says Marty, could come from donations. "There's more opportunity in Princeton philanthropically than ever before. A lot of people want to give; they're still contributing to the communities they came from. The Borough has to reach out to these people. They will contribute to housing."

Marty remembers the Princeton in which he grew up as a place where neighbors cared about each other. He says his father, even though he worked as many as three and four jobs, sometimes had to borrow bread from next door. "Now nobody knows each other. People come into town, see community, and want community. But they're so busy they run right by it."

He also recalls the town as a place where the very wealthy cared about the poor. When his

'Star-Spangled Banter' Returning for Reunions

The Triangle Club will reprise its spring production, Star-Spangled Banter, on Friday and Saturday at McCarter Theatre. The musical-comedy revue played to four sell-out crowds when it re-opened the newly renovated McCarter Theatre in early May.

A mixture of sketches and songs, Star-Spangled Banter spoofs things distinctly American, including game shows, Monday night football, disco, and singles bars. The traditional all-male kickline features 12 of the most gorgeous Princeton University guys competing in the annual Miss America pageant.

Model/actress Brooke Shields, a Princeton junior who appeared in two Triangle spring productions before Star-Spangled Banter, will reprise her role as Wonder Woman in a sketch that has America's best-loved superheroes in a group therapy session. Miss Shields is also featured as a dancer in a production number called "America on the Move."

Performances are at 8 and 10 both nights. Tickets are on sale at McCarter Theatre box office and can be reserved by calling 452-5200.

'Blithe Spirit' Readied At Hopewell Theatre

Blithe Spirit, Noel Coward's comedy about ghosts, will open Friday at the Off-Broadstreet Theatre in Hopewell for a five weekend run.

Alexander Wells of Philadelphia will have the central role of a suave novelist that Coward himself originated in London. The novelist's troubles begin when he arranges a seance in his country home to get material for a new book and brings in an eccentric medium named Madame Arcati for the purpose. The medium will be played by Marian Swan of New Hope.

Myra Robbins of New York and Janice Hamilton of Somerset will play the roles of the ghostly first and second wives. Customarily ghosts are supposed to frighten people. The wrathful spirits in this comedy serve only to confuse, perplex and irritate the man they've come to haunt.

Blithe Spirit will be directed by Karl Light of Princeton, who will be making his directorial debut at Off-Broadstreet Theatre. Mr. Light combines the running of the real estate firm he founded with a part-time theatrical career. He is a member of the McCarter Theatre Company, teaches speech at Princeton Theological Seminary and directs its campus productions.

His acting credits on Broadway include Inherit the Wind, Romeo and Juliet and Barefoot in Athens. A soap opera veteran, he has been a familiar face on programs such as Guiding Light, Ryan's Hope and Search for Tomorrow.

Performances of Blithe Spirit are Friday through Sunday, June 6 through July 5. Friday and Saturday doors open at 7 for dessert with the curtain at 8. On Sunday, doors open at 1:30 for dessert with the curtain at 2:30. Admission is $12.50.

For reservations call the box office at 466-2766. The Off-Broadstreet Dessert Theatre is located at 5 South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell.

FIRST TIME AT McCARTER!
Japan's extraordinary avant-garde dance troupe
SANKAI JUKU

The sensation of this year's New York contemporary dance scene — Japan's SANKAI JUKU performs modern dance of sublimated eroticism and rigid mechanistic movement that becomes ceremony — slow, powerful, intense. SANKAI JUKU's almost naked bodies, whitened with ash, create unforgettable images which are meticulously choreographed and carefully manipulated. They also perform some jaw dropping feats which must be seen to be believed.

Life in a Group Home
Is Subject of New Play

Last year, from more than 600 unsolicited manuscripts sent to McCarter Theatre, three caught the attention of the theatre staff. These three plays comprised the 1985 Spring Playwrights at McCarter series.

Among them was a play called Damaged Hearts, Broken Flowers by Tom Griffin. It was read in May, 1985, and will be given further attention when it receives its world premiere under the new title of The Boys Next Door, June 12-29, on the mainstage of McCarter.

Mr. Griffin says, the reading was a "terrific experience" in helping him "come to grips with some of the play's excesses and strengths." As with all new plays, the process of rehearsal brings new light and nuance to the script, and both Mr. Griffin and Nagle Jackson, who is directing the premiere, agree that minor revisions will be made along the way.

The subject matter of The Boys Next Door has been kept under wraps for the most part, but the play concerns the life and times of four men in a group home for the mentally handicapped.

The playwright describes the play as "a comedy about the life and times of four guys who are oftentimes pretty funny, but sometimes not."

The Boys Next Door previews Thursday, June 12, opens Friday, June 13, and runs with evening and matinee performances through June 29. Tickets are available now for all performances. They range in price from $15 to $23 and are available at the McCarter box office, 452-5200. Visa, MasterCard and American Express are welcome.

'Some Enchanted Evening' At Bucks County Theatre

The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical South Pacific is currently playing at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, Pa.

South Pacific tells the story of a Navy nurse from Arkansas who falls in love with an older French planter on a Pacific Island during World War II. It also tells of a young Marine lieutenant's attachment to a native girl which is wrecked by the prejudice of his Philadelphia Main Line and Princeton University backgrounds. Both romances involve two worlds meeting, individuals from different cultures thrown together in a remote part of the earth against the background of war's boredom and violence.

South Pacific will run through Sunday and again from July 29 through August 3. Performances are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8:30, Saturday at 5 and 9, and Sunday at 6.

Tickets range from $9 to $15. Season subscriptions, VIP Club and group discounts are also available. For additional information or reservations call (215) 860-2041.

Summer Classes Listed
By Princeton Ballet

Princeton Ballet's summer programs begin this week with an eight week evening.

Classes in ballet, jazz, modern and Spanish dance will be offered in the Cranbury, New Brunswick and Princeton studios through July 24 (not all classes are offered at all studios). Two special jazz/exercise classes have been added on Tuesdays at the Cranbury studio.

Classes are held from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays. Tuition depends on the total number of classes that will be taken during the eight-week period. For more information call (201) 249-1254, or 921-7758.

Princeton Ballet also offers two workshops beginning June 30. Both programs are designed for the more serious dancer with some previous training and are open to those age 10 through young adults. Classes run all day Monday through Friday, for one to five weeks.

Special features of the workshops are classical Chinese folk dance, injury prevention, character and composition improvisation, jazz, modern, and choreography — in addition to a classical ballet course.

For information call either of the two numbers listed above or write to Summer Programs

Ballet, 262 Alexander Street.

Tryouts for 'Fiddler' Set By Theatre-by-the-Lake

Theatre-by-the-Lake, the summer theater on the Peddie School campus in Hightstown, will open its 12th season with the musical Fiddler on the Roof, which will be performed
two weekends in July.

Tryouts for the musical will be held Wednesday and Thursday evenings, June 11 and 12, at 7 in Geiger-Reevers Hall on the Peddie School campus, South Main and Ward Streets in Hightstown. Jeffrey R. Holcombe will direct and Thomas Cardea will be the musical director.

Fiddler on the Roof ran for eight years on Broadway, winning many theatrical awards.
The story centers around
Tevye, the milkman, his wife,
Golde, and their five daughters.

The musical numbers include
"If I Were a Rich Man,"
"Sunrise, Sunset," and
"Matchmaker, Matchmaker."
The show calls for a large cast of speaking and solo roles and a large chorus and many dancers. People of all ages are welcome to try out, since roles vary from children to adults.

Those auditioning are asked to bring a small photograph, a brief resume and a prepared song — not necessarily from the show. All roles are open.

Rehearsals will be during the evenings on weekdays between 7 and 11 in preparation for performances Friday and Saturday July 18 and 19, and July 24 and 26. The directors are also looking for people who would like to work backstage in such areas as sets, lights, props and make-up. Anyone interested in those areas should also come to the theatre on the nights of tryouts.

For further information call
Mr. Holcombe at 448-3526.

Auditions Announced For Ballet II Dancers

Auditions for Princeton Ballet II will be held Sunday, beginning at 1 p.m., at the studios at 262 Alexander Street. Dancers age 12 through young adult are invited to audition for Princeton Ballet II (PB II), the pre-professional training company of Princeton Ballet. Pre-registration with a $10 fee is required. Those interested should call 921-7758.

Junior company auditioners (ages 12-14) should check in by 12:30, and senior company hopefuls (ages 15-young adult) by 2:30. All present Ballet II members must re-audition. No special material needs to be prepared, as the auditions take the form of a class with barre and center work.

PB II dancers perform in the area throughout the year. Most members are featured in the professional company's annual Nutcracker production. On occasion, some PB II dancers appear with the regular company in its repertory performances.

PB II members must take a minimum of three classes a week at any ballet studio, attend PB II class every Sunday during the school year, pay membership dues which are applied towards an annual trip to see a major New York City company, and attend all rehearsals of ballets in which they are cast.

Many members of Princeton Ballet II have gone on to professional companies. Karen Russo and Anne Woodside, currently dancers for Princeton Ballet, are two such PB II graduates.

Theatre Program Offered By Department at Hun

The Hun School will hold its third annual summer theater program from June 30 to August 1.

Conducted by drama director Craig Evans, the program will cover aspects of theatrical experience from acting and directing to stagecraft and theater history. It will be held weekdays from 1 to 4 and is open to boys and girls in grades six through 12.

The past two summers have seen performances of James Thurber's A Thurbur Carnival and Jules Feiffer's Feiffer's People. This year the choice is Kurt Vonnegut's Welcome to the Monkey House, which will be performed June 30 and August 1. All participants in the program will take part in the acting and technical aspects of the show, which will serve as a showcase for their skills.

Besides preparing for the show, participants will attend workshops by professionals in choreography, singing, stage lighting, and TV acting. Along with workshops will be advice on how to break into the professional ranks.

Further information is available through the school's admissions office, 921-7600.

'Pinafore' Dates Changed For PJB Production

Because the weekend of October 2-5 is Rosh Hashanah, McCarter Theatre has changed the performance dates of the fall PJB production of H.M.S. Pinafore.

The new performance dates are Thursday-Sunday, September 25-28. Director Francis X. Kuhn has interviewed a large number of interested amateur actors, dancers and musicians, but no casting has been done. Audition dates are yet to be announced, those interested in participating in the production in any way are encouraged to call McCarter Theatre at 452-3616 between 10 and 6, and leave name and mailing address.

Principal members of the cast must be available to rehearse the week before Labor Day weekend (not including the weekend) and chorus members must be available in the evenings and weekends beginning on Tuesday, September 2.

Chamber Ensemble Offers Rarely Heard Compositions

One of the advantages of living in a town with as active a musical life as Princeton's is the wide variety of offerings available to the public, many of which are free of charge. The more esoteric of these programs may not draw large audiences, but they do fill certain gaps left by the hills of fare presented by the town's other musical organizations.

The concert presented Friday evening in Alexander Hall by the Chamber Ensemble at Princeton accomplished that task. This extraordinary group of professional musicians performed a program of rarely-heard chamber music from the 18th and 20th centuries.

Directed by Michael Pratt and Robert Sadin, and sponsored by the Friends of Music at Princeton, these artists played music written for a variety of ensembles. The program included two works by Mozart: two Notturmi (Se lon ton ben mio and Mi lagnera tacenda) and the Quintet for Clarinet and Strings in A Major (K. 581). Clarinetist Charles Neidich was featured in lovely short pieces with texts by the composer's some-time librettist, Pietro Metastasio. Sopranos Johana Arnold and Alimo Russell joined haritone Elliot Z. Lavine in these songs. Each voice had a distinctive character, yet blended with the others into a unique sound capable of fine nuances — superb choices for such gentle pieces. The airs were sparsely accompanied by two clarinets (Charles Neidich and Kim Fay) and hassel horn (Dennis Smylie), giving the songs a delicately transparent setting.

Mr. Neidich's extraordinary skill was showcased in the pieces by Stravinsky. The clarinetist's sound was fluid and delightfully varied, thick in the lower register, crisp and cool in the upper. His supple technique enabled him to play the work's last two movements flawlessly at very quick tempi.

The concert included the world premiere performance of Phoebe Myhill's Quintet. This piece was written earlier this year while Ms. Myhill was a graduate student in composition at the University. The most striking feature of this work was the great abundance of rhythmic activity which occurred within steady, slow beat patterns. The harmonic language was freely atonal, based loosely on a descending four-note motive heard early in the work. The instruments were treated rather unevenly: the clarinet and piano got most of the solo work and the piano provided a percussive underpinning throughout large portions of the piece. The strings were of secondary importance, being used more for color and sporadic melodic development.

Under Mr. Sadin's baton, the musicians performed this difficult piece very well. Mr. Feinstein's work at the piano was convincing and very musical, and Mr. Neidich displayed superlative control over his instrument, using circular breathing to extend his phrasing, both clarinet and piano balanced well with the ethereal sounds of the strings, played by Cyrus Stevens (violin), Lois Martin (viola) and Charles Curtis (cello).

The Seven Sonnets/Sieben Sonette by Mr. Spies are settings of poems by Shakespeare in English and in German. The languages are interlarded, as stated in the program notes, "so that their sequence in either language is dissimilar." The texts speak philosophically of Love and Time, but none of their beauty or poetic integrity is evident in the settings. The concept of the work invites disjointedness, an aspect which permeates both the melodic line and the accompaniment (scored for clarinet and string trio).

Ms. Arnold and Mr. Levine handled the non-linear melodies very well. Ms. Arnold phrased her part in such a way

MUSIC

Stravinsky's Three Pieces for Solo Clarinet, which was written in 1919. Two new works were also presented: Quintet for Clarinet, Piano and Strings by Phoebe Myhill; and six sections from Seven Sonnets/Sieben Sonette for Soprano, Baritone, Clarinet and String Trio, by Claudio Spies.

An unusual aspect of this concert was the use of the hassel horn and the basset clarinet in the songs and quintet by Mozart. Both instruments are members of the clarinet family, and look similar to the E-flat alto clarinet and the B-flat clarinet, respectively, though they are slightly longer and have larger bores. Consequently, the tone of these instruments is mellower than their more common counterparts, and they can play a major third lower. The basset clarinet, heard distinctly in the quintet, lent its richness to the timbre of the ensemble.

that it gave some musical sense to it, and Mr. Levine displayed his remarkable flexibility as his vocal lines leapt unrelent-ingly from one extreme of his range to the other

It is to the directors' credit that the program included the Mozart Quintet for Basses Clarinet and Strings. This work was substituted for the Brahms Quintet, which was advertised in the pre-concert publicity.
The performers felt that the Brahms was too tragic a piece for inclusion at the end of a program which already included some strenuous and profound works. Though the Brahms was eagerly anticipated, the Mozart was a splendid choice as a replacement.

The most notable aspect of this performance was the mellow quality of the basses clarinet in conjunction with the string quartet. The sweetness of its tone was strikingly beautiful in the opening of the work's second movement, in which Mr. Neidich played solo against a background of muted strings. The quartet itself, which included Todd Phillips on first violin, made a marvelous ensemble, seasoned in quality and unified in phrasing and articulation. Its expressive energy propelled the music with a welcomed feeling of grace and charm.

Such opportunities to hear excellent performances of new and rarely heard works for chamber ensembles are a noteworthy addition to the musical offerings in this town.
These performances continue to keep Princeton University and this community on the leading edge of musical life on the eastern seaboard.

Musical Camps Planned For Younger Children
Two summer programs will be offered by Marjorie's Music for children.

The June Joy Camp for children ages four to seven, and Piano Play for children ages six to nine will be offered daily from June 9 to June 20. Piano Play will be offered again from July 7 to 18.

June Joy will provide musical activities purely for pleasure. Activities include musical games, dramas, marionette and puppet shows, eurythmic movement, making musical instruments, listening to musical selections and an introduction to the learning of notation and note reading. No previous musical experience is required of these four- to six-year-olds.

A 1½-hour program of musical play will be offered daily, with the additional option of continuing for another hour of free creative play.

Piano Play is offered both in June and July for older children wishing to be introduced to the basics of piano playing through creative and artistic musical activities, including keyboard work. Here the emphasis is on enjoyment of learning with others. A variety of movement, drama, drawing, games and so forth will constitute the artistic and imaginative approach to piano playing and music reading.

This class will also be offered for 1½ hours daily (with a possible option of an hour for marionette making).

For further information, call Marjorie Holcombe, director, at 201-297-6151.

String Festival Planned At Westminster College

The fourth annual Summer String Festival is scheduled for June 29 to July 3 at the Westminster Conservatory of Music on the College campus. Registration is now open for beginning through advanced violin, viola, and cello students, ages 5-18.

Activities will include Suzuki group, music reading and movement classes for children in the elementary stages. Orchestra and chamber music classes will be the focus for more advanced players. Also included each day will be classes for parents, and a performance for all participants.

Classes will be taught by members of the Westminster Conservatory string faculty, and the orchestra will be directed by Barbara Greenberg.

IT'S NEW To Us

Not Merely a Card Shop, Jordan's Has Gifts Galore

"This is not just a card shop. It is a gift and card shop," says Lewis Wildman, owner of Jordan's at the Princeton Shopping Center. "There is really an incredible variety of gifts that appeal to everyone — from nonsensical gift items to exquisite art glass. And we have quality at all prices."

Jordan's, which is a joint venture of Mr. Wildman and his father, came to the shopping center in 1983 and joins five other Jordan's stores in New Jersey, New York and Florida. It is really a treasure trove of gift items of all types and appealing to all ages.

If you are planning a party, you will surely find what you need among Jordan's wide selection of party goods. From invitations to paper plates, napkins and cups to party favors, hats and balloons, the choice is extensive. A special section of party goods is offered with a Fourth of July theme, including red, white and blue and flag motif. For your outdoor or poolside entertaining, there is an abundance of handsome Stotter plastic drinkingware, trays and ice buckets, as well as a cooler in the shape of a gigantic Coke can. And should you be lucky enough to find yourself floating leisurely in the pool on a hot summer day, there are inflatable duck, alligator and turtle caddies in which to place a cooling libation.

Children will find Jordan's a happy place to visit. All kinds of stuffed animals, including Gund, North American Bear Co. and Avanti, are available, as are dolls (presently on sale for $22.95), a variety of the ever-popular stickers and sticker books, a potpourri of specialty pencils and erasers, piggy banks, little animal knickknacks and, just added, a children's book department.

Balloons, both mylar and the traditional latex, have become very popular, notes Mr. Wildman, and they are available, both inflated or non-inflated.

Great Greeting Cards. And, although Jordan's unquestionably is more than a card shop, its greeting card selection is outstanding. "We have a wide selection of cards, from humorous to sentimental and traditional," explains Mr. Wildman. "We have a huge selection of blanks which are popular in Princeton. We're really a two card shop in one."

MORE THAN A CARD SHOP: Jordan's in the Princeton Shopping Center is filled with a variety of remarkable gift items that appeal to all ages. Owner Lewis Wildman points out the wide selection which, of course, also includes an extensive choice of greeting cards, party goods and wrapping paper.

One aisle contains Hallmark traditional cards. Another aisle is for alternate cards, Caspari and others. We have more than 100 feet of alternate card choices, other than traditional, including The Far Side by Gary Larson. He's hot now, and we carry his cards, posters, books, postcards and mugs. There are lots of Caspari items," he adds, "including cards, memo and address books and writing folders."

Wrapping a package can become a pleasure, not a burden, once you see the wonderful selection of paper and ribbon at Jordan's. The choice is excellent and Mr. Wildman notes, "The wrapping paper department is 50 to 60 feet, with single sheets and rolls. We also have a great variety of gift paper bags, with three or four sizes in different designs and colors."

An assortment of ready-made bows is available, as well as a wide choice of ribbon, including decorative specialty ribbon, with 'Happy Birthday' or sail boats and musical notes designs.

The Townsend Wing Chair

A fascinating recent addition to the Hickory Chair collection of original antiques is the frame of the 1271-55 wing chair attributed to John Townsend of Newport, Rhode Island. A close-up of the outside wing reveals the inscription "R.I. 1764".

For more than a hundred years, spanning most of the 18th and the early 19th centuries, the Townsend-Goddard families of Newport were among America's most outstanding cabinetmakers. Beginning with the young Townsend brothers, Job and Christopher, whose apprentice, John Goddard, married Job's daughter, the two families were allied in furniture making and friendship for generations.

Best known of this talented family was Christopher's son, John Townsend (1732-1809), who signed at least ten pieces now identified and owned by leading museums. One characteristic for which he was noted is the stop-fluted leg of this "easie chair" now authentically reproduced by Hickory Chair Company.

quisite detail, these cottages are a great gift for a man." Jordan's has many of these charming English cottages in stock. They are "miniature sculptures of England's rich and quaint architectural heritage."

Fine Lenox china and crystal are also available, as are the famous Hummel figures from Germany and the Precious Moments porcelain figures. Jordan's carries a selection of elegant art glass, too.

In addition, the store's eclectic collection includes the very popular jigsaw puzzles, mugs galore, stationery, diaries and address books, photo albums, picture frames, key rings, wooden cutting boards and cheese trays, soap, dusting powder and Russell Stover candy. A new item is a hand-painted waste basket and smaller container, with a duck design, for $32.95 and $15.95.

Couroc trays are always in demand, and Jordan's carries a selection of these, as well as cake plates and attractive imported microwave cookware. "We have our own importing company," explains Mr. Wildman, "which helps to keep prices down."

The range of merchandise is so wide that prices cover an equally wide range. "We have erasers for 40 cents," says Mr. Wildman, "and Hummel figures for as much as $500, with all prices in between."

Mr. Wildman finds special pleasure in selling the new products. "When we get something new, I love selling it," he says enthusiastically. "I'm the buyer, too, and it's exciting when something catches on. It's fun when we make a display out of a new product, and it works. Of course," he adds, "making money is enjoyable. I like that, too!"

Customers at Jordan's will not only appreciate the variety of merchandise but also the service, something which is emphasized. "We try to accommodate customers' wishes," says Mr. Wildman. "We'll order things for people. If there's any chance of getting it, we'll do all we can."

THE BALLOON BUSINESS IS SOARING, and no one knows this better than Joe Petrozzini, owner of Absolutely Balloonie in Kingston. No longer just for kids, balloons are now used as center pieces and decorations for a variety of festive occasions.

Another plus at the Princeton Shopping Center, appreciated by all, is the convenient parking.

Hours at Jordan's are 9:30-6 Monday-Saturday, Friday until 8 and Sunday 12-5 (closed Sundays July and August).

Balloons Are Flying High At Absolutely Balloonie

"There's something about balloons that is very appealing," smiles Joe Petrozzini, owner of Absolutely Balloonie in Kingston. "Basically, regardless of age, we're all kids at heart."

Located at 61 Main Street, the shop has been open for six years. Mr. Petrozzini, also owner of the Frame 'n' Art Shop in the same building, has no plan to enter the balloon business. It just happened. "A friend had a gift shop and got started with balloons," he recalls. "She said, 'Why don't you try balloons? You have the personality for it.' So we gave it a try, and people really responded. We started out with a heart-shaped 'I Love You' balloon in a box lined with tissue paper and ribbons for Valentine's Day, and we sold 183 of them. I still remember the number."

The balloon in a box continues to be the best selling item, he adds. "It can be shipped all over and makes a very welcome gift for students away at school or college or husbands attending a seminar out of town."

With such a positive response to the balloons, Mr. Petrozzini then had to think of an appropriate name for his new business. "I thought and thought and came up with Absolutely Balloonie. Actually," he laughs, "the most important thing was that it be Number One in the Yellow Pages."

Not just for kids, balloons have come a long way from the days when they were just children's toys or the decorations at children's birthday parties — although they are certainly still very much in demand for those occasions. They are no longer exclusively for children, however. Showers, graduations, anniversaries, all kinds of parties, even sales meetings and weddings now use balloons as decorations, centerpieces and in arrangements.

"The balloon centerpiece is a new idea, really within the last six years," explains Mr. Petrozzini. "I had to learn how to create centerpieces and bouquets, and this really appealed to me. You can be so creative with arrangements. There's such a wide color range with the balloons now. It's so diversified. My background is interior decorating, and colors interest me. I like the creative aspect of the work."

Mr. Petrozzini notes that an Absolutely Balloonie specialty is The Archway, a unique creation of balloons for use above head tables or passageways.

At this time of year, with graduations and weddings so prevalent, Mr. Petrozzini can hardly keep up with the demand. In addition, people call from all over, as far away as Texas and California, asking for deliveries of special balloons or bouquets.

The balloon bouquet, consisting either of 12 latex or seven mylar balloons, has become a very popular item. It makes a very cheerful get-well gift or remembrance for a variety of occasions. As Mr. Petrozzini remarks, "I make deliveries, too, so I can see the people's reaction. All ages enjoy the balloons. Elderly people get great enjoyment from them. They can be a wonderful gift. I really get a kick out of seeing how people respond to the balloons."

Bouquets and decorations for special occasions are only one aspect of Absolutely Balloonie's operation. Single purchases are a thriving part of the business, and an enormous variety of balloons, both mylar and latex, are available. "We have an advantage here," explains Mr. Petrozzini, "because people can come in and see the balloons and buy them right here. You can spend $3 for one helium-filled mylar which will last from two to five weeks, or $1.25 for a latex, the traditional 'popper'. Of course, you can also plan the balloons for the decorations for festive occasions. Whatever it is, you can actually see the balloons you'll be choosing."

Cartoon Balloons. The mylar balloon (the material is practically non-porous and a development of the space age) is probably the most popular balloon today since it lasts longer and has a wider variety of designs and sayings. The syndicated cartoons, such as Snoopy and Garfield, as well as Sesame Street characters and Happy Birthday balloons are the most popular, reports Mr. Petrozzini. Other choices include It's a Boy, Thank You, I Love You, Get Well Soon, Bon Voyage, Mickey Mouse, Bugs Bunny and the little girls' favorite, My Little Pony.

"Birthday balloons are a big thing," adds Mr. Petrozzini. "We have seven different birthday styles alone."

The mylar balloons come in two sizes, 18-inch and 36-inch, and the latex in four sizes, 11-inch (most popular), 14-inch, 16-inch and 36-inch.

Absolutely Balloonie also provides balloons for sales meetings, as well as imprinting for special occasions (40th birthdays, etc.) and advertising. "Retail stores often use balloons for promotion and advertising purposes," says Mr. Petrozzini.

Quantity discounts are available now, if customers buy in large numbers for parties, he adds. For individual purchases, prices are $3 for mylars, $1.25 for latex, $18 for bouquets (12 latex, seven mylar) and $20 for a balloon in a box, including shipping.

For the sake of variety, Mr. Petrozzini also offers a line of soft, furry hand puppets called Country Critters. Remarkably real looking raccoons, beavers, pigs, skunks and puppies are available and are very popular with kids of all ages. They sell for $14.95.

Hours for Absolutely Balloonie are 10-5 Tuesday-Friday and 10-3 on Saturday.

ART

Two Artists Exhibiting At Back Door Gallery

An exhibition of prints on handmade paper, comboprints, monotypes, and pen and ink drawings by Princeton artist Anita Benarde will be on view in The Back Door Gallery, Princeton Shopping Center, from June 6-July 9.

Among the places in which her work has been exhibited are the University of Maryland, Rutgers University, Guild Gallery in Rocky Hill, the New Brunswick Art Association, the Art Gallery at Macy's in New York and the DeLann Gallery in Plainsboro. She has also illustrated many books.

Also at the gallery from June 6-July 9 will be sculpture by Princeton cartoonist and illustrator Mike Ramus.

His work is in a variety of mediums, including wood, papier mache, cardboard and fiber.

Photographs of Campus In Exhibit at University

"Point of View," an exhibition of 27 photographs of the Princeton campus by John W. H. Simpson, will be on display at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School from June 5 through July 31. The exhibit is open to the public on weekdays from 9 to 4:30.

"The show is almost solely based on the feelings — the emotional reaction — one gets by simply walking around the campus," said Mr. Simpson, a 1966 graduate of Princeton. The 41-year-old professional photographer, who has lived in Princeton for the past 15 years, describes the campus as a "unique environment" with a variety of "special sites."

Mr. Simpson has selected works that reflect a change in attitude brought about by his near-fatal auto accident in 1983, which hospitalized him for more than six months and resulted in 41 operations. "In a sense it made me a better photographer by heightening my selectivity and my emotional involvement in things," he explained. Campus photos from before and after the accident will be included in the exhibition.

During the past 12 years, Mr. Simpson has done extensive freelance work for the University and for the Woodrow Wilson School. He has donated all 27 of the photographs to the University as his contribution to a Campaign for Princeton.

If Post 76 Is Ever to Win the League Title, This Is the Year

"We're loaded and we're deep."
"If Princeton Post 76 is ever going to win the league title, this is the year. If Post 76 is ever going to win a state championship, this is the year."
"We've got the talent, we can go as far as we want to go. I can't wait to get started."

The speaker brimming with optimism — and with good reason — is Larry Bender, manager of the Princeton Post 76 American Legion team. Last year, his third since taking over the Post 76 reins from Pete Millington, Bender was voted the league's Manager of the Year. He took a team that was floundering in the early weeks and guided it to 12 consecutive wins to finish in a three-way tie for first place with Bordentown and Hightstown. All three teams ended league play 20-7.

With two key players out, Scott Pierson and Dave Arendas, Post 76 lost the playoff for first place. Again this year, Post 76 is made up of players from West Windsor, one of the dominant high school teams in the county this year with a 20-3-1 record, and from Princeton High.

"We're favored to win it this year and I think we will," said Bender. "I think the kids will take it as an honor."

The ten-team Legion League will begin a 27-game schedule this week Post 76 will open Sunday against Mitchell-Davis in a 1 p.m. contest at Trenton's Hetzel Field. It will play the same team the next day at 5:45 at Mercer County Park where it will play all its home games this year.

Last year, Post 76 played its home games at Princeton University's Clarke Field. This year, Bender explained, the team could not afford the increased fees. "Their insurance rates were so high, it was ridiculous," said Bender.

In mid-week, Post 76 will play Ewing Post 314 in back-to-back games on Wednesday and Thursday and on Saturday and Sunday it will oppose Bordentown Post 26, winner of the playoff last year for first place and the team Bender picks to give his team the most competition this summer.

"It would be nice to be 5-1 or 4-2 after the first week," said Bender. The first week's action in the league, he added, will tell a lot.

Bender is quick to agree he has the talent to go all the way. Collectively, he said, Post 76 led the league in batting average by some 60 points. Standouts returning from West Windsor and their last year's averages include Arendas (.440), Darrin Villani (.473), Mike Walker (.352), Craig Ender (.386) — whom he described as probably the best catcher not only in the league but in the entire county — Chuck McCall and Pierson (both .300) and Danny Sexton (.280). Sophomore newcomer John Clarkson is big and strong at 6-0, 200 pounds. He will be a fixture at third base for two years, says Bender, after Villani retires. This year, Sexton will be in right field.

From PHS, Bender welcomes Tim Rumer, second in the county this year in batting with a .492 average. Rumer will also join the Post 76 mound staff. Also from PHS, Dave Sisson and Billy Byrne.

Pitching for Post 76 will be Arendas, 6-0 last year; Pierson (6-1) and Jay Jordan (7-2). Although Rumer did not have a spectacular year on the mound for Princeton High this spring, Bender (who served as assistant to PHS coach Ed Beacham) commented, "I think Rumer is just as good as any of them."

One new element to the League this year, one that Bender is opposed to, is the mandated return to wooden bats — approved by a vote of the managers.

Bender, one of the few opposed, was candid in his opposition. "I think it stinks," he said. The pitching from top to bottom will be a lot stronger, he said, and batting averages will drop 100 points on average.

"You'll see a lot of one-hitters," he predicted.

The feeling of the majority of the managers, however, was while aluminum bats, currently used by all high school teams, will make an average hitter a good hitter, the players will be better off in the long run. One manager predicted that within two or three years, all college teams will use wooden bats.

As for the rosy predictions for Post 76 this year, Bender cautioned that "right now all we're talking about is how it looks on paper. But I think the talent is there, I think we can do it," he concluded.

Five from PHS Qualify For Meet of Champions

The competition in the two-day NJSIAA state group track tournament held Friday and Saturday at Rutgers Stadium in Piscataway was expected to be intense, and it was.

Princeton High, competing in the Group 3 finals, sent five on to the Meet of Champions, which will be held this Wednesday in South Plainfield. The top five finishers in each event qualified.

On Friday, Eva Klohn of PHS finished third in the 800, with a clocking of 2:18.6. The event was won by North Hunterdon standout Jodie Bilotta in 2:09.2. Bilotta also won the 3200 and, on Saturday, the 1600.

Peter Paris of PHS finished third in the high jump with a 6-8 effort on the basis of more misses. The first- and second-place finishers also could do no better than 6-8. Teammate Tim Hannon tied for fifth at 6-6.

Failing to qualify, but still turning in fine performances for PHS, were Sean Nyhan, seventh in the 800 (1:59.8) and Alan Caulk, seventh in the 400 hurdles (57.3). Nathaniel McVey-Finney was tenth in the 3200 and John Clark 15th in the same event.

Here's an interesting question... Who's the only man in America who can hit a home run in big league baseball and then always shake hands with his father BEFORE he crosses home plate? Answer is Baltimore Oriole shortstop Cal Ripken Jr. ... His father, Cal Ripken Sr., is third base coach for the Orioles ... Every time Cal Jr. hits a home run, his father is there at third base to congratulate him before Cal Jr. reaches home plate.

I bet you didn't know ... that many health insurance plans for families do not cover children after they reach 19 years old and/or finish college.

In the Group 3 unseeded heats, Sara Doig of PHS was second in the 800 in 2:25.3, and Heather Gray fifth in 2:27.3.

On Saturday, Teresa DiPerna of PHS ran a 57.56 to finish third in the 400, and Sean Nyhan came in fifth in the 1600 for the boys with a 4:23.52. The winning time in the 1600 was 4:18.02.

Mercer County's lone Group 3 individual champion was Steinert's Tom Sullivan who won the javelin event on Friday with a toss of 194-7.

PHS Girls Eliminated From Lacrosse Playoff

In the end, with the outcome on the line, the execution wasn't there.

Was it a lack of experience or trying too hard that led to mistakes causing the Princeton High School girls lacrosse team to be eliminated Friday in the quarterfinals of the state championship? Little Tiger coach Joyce Jones felt it was a little bit of both.

In any event, Princeton High's bid to repeat as state champions came up two games short when Moorestown Friends stopped the sixth-seeded, visiting Little Tigers, 13-11. Two years ago in Princeton, Moorestown had upset PHS in the first round of the state tourney. "We have a way of getting up for them," said MF coach Sue Sadler after the game.

PHS had taken an 8-7 lead in the first half, but was held to a pair of goals by Silvana Nazzaro and Amy Kershaw in the second half, until Boobie Lockwood scored in the final minute. The home team scored six in the second half against the PHS defense, including the go-ahead goal by Beth Weiner that gave the Quakers an 11-10 lead with seven minutes to play, and an icing goal by Dana Calvo. Lockwood and the victors' Ayla Okevglu exchanged goals in the final minute.

In contrast to last year's senior-dominated championship team, PHS had only three senior starters on this year's

Women's Summer Lacrosse

Registration has begun for the women's summer lacrosse league sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department.

All those entering high school and older are eligible. The fee is $15 for Princeton residents, $30 for non-residents.

The league, under the direction of Joyce Jones, will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Valley Road Field, starting June 26 and ending in mid-August.

The deadline to register is June 13. For additional information, call 921-9480.

squad: Lockwood, Amy Kershaw and Neil Pinneo. Jones commented after the loss that the team's inexperience showed in the pressure-packed final ten minutes. The shots on goal missed, the passes failed to click, and the defense did not adequately protect goalie Suzanne Maman. "We tried too hard and made too many mistakes," said Jones. "But today we played a super team."

Sara Pickens led the 13-3-3 Little Tigers with four goals, while Lockwood, Kershaw and Jessica Fraker contributed two each and Nazzaro one.

Pickens will lead a group of returning juniors including Tory Crimmins, Noel Mann, Kathy Herring, Rebecca Van Dyke, Aileen Causing and Fraker. Marianna Mazzucato and Maman are sophomores.

The Little Tigers stumbled through two ties and a loss in their first three games this season, as they struggled to overcome their inexperience and the burden of being the defending state champions. They came on to win six in a row in mid-season, and had won their last four, including a victory over second-seeded (in the state tournament) Montville in their final regular-season game, and an 11-6 victory over Cherry Hill East last week in the opening round of the state tournament.

Not state champions again, perhaps, but champions in the eyes of Jones who told them to go out with their heads held high. "You have a lot to be proud of."

PHS Stops Hopewell, 4-1 In Tennis for 25th Win

The Princeton High tennis team, which still has a couple of regular-season matches left before the season ends, last week defeated rival Hopewell Valley, 4-1, for the second time.

In singles play, PHS did not lose a set, as Mark Leschly defeated Quentin Kelly, 6-4, 6-0, Bruce Ellis defeated Tim Aris, 6-2, 6-2, and Stig Leschly topped George Lubert, 6-0, 6-2.

In doubles play, Princeton's second doubles of Richard Webb and Mike Mullen defeated Chris Durham and Buzz Hollander, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3. The Bulldogs' only point came at first doubles, where Dave Bovenizer and Kevin Lubert defeated Roger Ahuja and Bruce Goodman of PHS, 6-2, 6-0.

With the win PHS increased its record to 25-5.

Crew Heads for Syracuse; Repeat of '85 Improbable

One year ago Princeton's heavyweight crew surprised everyone by winning the International Rowing Association regatta at Syracuse for the first time ever.

Fine performances by other Tiger boats enabled Old Nassau to capture the Ten Eyck trophy for the best overall showing for the first time also. Coach Larry Gluckman called it, "the greatest day in Princeton rowing."

Thursday through Saturday of this week, Tiger crews will be back on Lake Onondaga for IRA competition, but their chances of repeating as champions are extremely thin. The Orange and Black heavyweight varsity capped a mediocre spring with a disappointing showing at the Eastern Sprints in Worcester, Mass., last month. The first varsity boat did not even qualify for the consolation. Two varsity shells, a freshman and perhaps another boat, will compete at Syracuse.

Pennsylvania, the winner of the Sprints, is the favored crew at the IRA's, and hopes to become the first varsity eight in 23 years to double as Sprints and IRA champion. Cornell accomplished the feat in 1963, as well as in 1956 and 1957. Navy captured both in 1952 and 1953.

The Quakers have won the title seven times, the last coming in 1972 with a 3.5-second win over Brown. A year ago, the Red and Blue finished fourth. Regardless of the outcome next week, Penn is guaranteed a spot in the National Championship in Cincinnati the following weekend, when the best eastern and western crews will meet. Penn's win at the Sprints earned the Quakers an expense-free trip to Cincinnati. An expense-free trip to the Grand Challenge Cup at Henley, England awaits the Nationals winner.

Meanwhile, Princeton's lightweights, who beat out Harvard and Yale to win at Worcester for the fourth straight year, will also row at Syracuse. Since there is no formal lightweight competition, they will enter the junior varsity race. Last year they finished first in that event, beating out Princeton's junior varsity heavyweights by more than two seconds.

Win or lose, coach Gary Kilpatrick's lightweights are headed for Henley again, but in all probability, for Gluckman's oarsmen, the next race will come in the Spring of 1987.

Three in Indianapolis. The season also continues for three members of the men's and women's track teams at the NCAA track and field meet in Indianapolis this week.

Sean Purcell and Debbie St. Phard will compete in the shot-put, and sprinter Steve Morgao will run in the 200 meter. Finals are set for this Friday.

Dual Meet Season Ends For Girls Track Team

With wins over Hightstown and Nottingham on successive days last week, the Princeton High girls track team ended its regular season with a 9-1 record under coach Tom McMorrow. The Little Tigers' only loss this season was to Trenton High.

Princeton's 71½-50½ triumph over Hightstown was only the second loss for the Rams in ten dual meets. PHS captured every flat race, as Teresa DiPerna won the 100 and 200 dashes, Meg Parsons won the 400 meter, Eva Klohoe the 800, Karin Swartz the 1600, and Sandra Tignor the 3200.

The Rams' Diane Keller won both hurdle events, besting Tracy Hemingway of PHS in the 100H and Susan Gray in the 400H. PHS won the 4x400 relay by a wide margin, 4:55.5 to 5:21.7.

Princeton's lone win in the field events came in the javelin where DiPerna and Klohoe finished 1-2 with tosses of 93-10 and 92-9. Keller became a four-time winner when she also doubled in the long jump and high jump for the losers. Sarah Billington and Amie Quigley finished second and third for PHS in the high jump.

Boys, Girls Trip Nottingham. The previous day, the PHS girls routed Nottingham, 92-39, and the PHS boys also breezed past the North Stars, 86-36.

The girls won every race but the 800. Krista Johnson won the 100 and 200, Kelly Nyhan the 400, Diana Hunt the 1600, Adele Riddle the 3200, Hemingway the 100H and Rachel Spear the 400H.

DiPerna and Klohnen finished 1-2 in the javelin again. Johnson won the long jump and Quigley the high jump.

The once-defeated PHS boys team dominated both the field events and races against Nottingham.

Mike Riddick won the shot put, Mark Pirone the discus, Balfour Merrill the javelin, Nirva Jean-Louis the long jump, and Peter Paris led a PHS sweep of the high jump. Paris cleared 6-8, Tim Hannon 6-2, and Brian Trelstad, 5-10. Nottingham swept the pole vault.

Pat McKeller won the 200 and 110H for PHS, Jean-Louis the 100, Moshe Toussaint the 400, Nathaniel McVey-Finney the 800, and Alan Caulk the 400H. "The North Stars' Tony Wells won the 1600 and 3200, defeating John Clark of PHS in both distance races.

Chen, McKeller, McVey-Finney and Toussaint combined to win the 4x400 relay in 3:37.2.

PHS Nine Ends with Win After 7th Inning Rally

One strike away from ending its season with back-to-back defeats, the Princeton High baseball team went out a winner last week when senior Bruno DiDonato cracked a two-run triple to give the Little Tigers a 7-6 victory over South Hunterdon in their season's final game.

The previous day, PHS became the 20th victim of the hard-hitting West Windsor Pirates, falling 13-2. With the split, the Little Tigers finished with an overall 8-13 record.

This fourth season under

coach Ed Beacham has to be labeled a disappointing one. Inconsistent play in the field, an uneven performance by the mound staff, and a habit of having to play catch-up in most of their games, kept the Blue and White off stride.

There were three highlights: upset wins over highly-favored West Windsor and Notre Dame, the latter Beacham's first ever, and the hitting of pitcher-first baseman Tim Rumer. A junior, Rumer got two hits in four at bats against South Hunterdon after being blanked in the West Windsor game to finish one hit under .500 — 35 in 71 at bats, for a .492 average, second only to Hopewell Valley's Dave Ryan, who finished with 37 hits in 68 at bats for a .544 average.

Included in Rmer's hits were six doubles, three triples, three home runs and 25 RBIs.

Through graduation, Beacham loses his entire outfield of Dave Sisson, Billy Scott and DiDonato, plus third baseman Doug Davis, Keith Webber, Whit Thompson and pitcher-infielder Bill Mathes. Returning starters include Billy Byrne, Jeff Robinson, Paul Crystal and Rumer. "I've got the middle of the infield back and a couple of pitchers," said Beacham. "Both Rumer and shortstop Byrne double as pitchers."

To fill the holes left by graduation, Beacham will have to turn to the jayvee team, and that figures to be a plus next spring. Beacham explained that the jayvee team won nine of its last ten games, losing its final game, to turn a 2-7 season into a winning 11-8 effort.

"They won nine in a row and came up with a winning attitude," said Beacham. Will that winning attitude carry over to next year? "We're a long way away but at least we're thinking about it already," confirmed Beacham. "Maybe next year."

Five Lead Changes. There were five lead changes in the finale with South Hunterdon. After the home team Eagles scored two in the sixth, they led 5-4 going into the last inning.

Davis opened the PHS seventh with a walk, but was thrown out at second when Mathes hit into a fielder's choice. Mathes advanced to second on a single by Sisson, and to third on Crystal's grounder that forced Sisson for the second out.

Rumer kept the Little Tigers' hopes alive with an RBI single that plated Mathes. Then with the count one ball and two strikes, DiDonato ripped the next offering by SH hurler Brian Conover for a triple to score Crystal and Rumer and give PHS a 7-5 lead.

"He's a senior and it was his last at bat. It was a nice way to go out and get the game-winning hit. I'm sure he'll be thinking about it," said Beacham of DiDonato.

South Hunterdon gave PHS some anxious moments, however, before the Little Tigers could celebrate. Three singles by the Eagles in their half of the last inning cut the lead to one, but Byrne, who went all the way for his third win, retired the last two batters on a pop-up and a game-ending grounder to Mathes at short.

WW Clubs Rumer. Princeton's second meeting with West Windsor the day before was far different that its first meeting when the Little Tigers upset the Pirates, 4-3. PHS took a 2-0 lead in the first inning, but never scored again.

"We let them get back in the game. We made a couple of errors and they hit the ball hard," recalled Beacham. Actually, as he admitted later, those "couple" of errors were actually nine in number.

West Windsor (20-2-1) tied the game at 2 in the first, added four more runs in the second and five more in the fifth to turn the contest into a rout. The only moment of controversy, as far as the Little Tigers were concerned, came in the first inning. It involved Rumer.

Batting fourth, Rumer entered the contest batting over .500 (33-for-65.) Rumer slommed a low drive back to the mound that hit WW pitcher Scott Pierson in the leg. Pierson couldn't find the ball, as his teammates yelled, "In front of you! In front of you!"

When Pierson finally saw the ball, he picked it up and threw over the head of first baseman Mike Walker, Rumer ending up on second base. "We thought it was a single and an error," said Beacham. But the official scorer, since it was West Windsor's home game, ruled it a two-base error.

"In our book, he had a hit," said Beacham.

Pierson limited PHS to a pair of hits in winning his sixth

Barton to Coach Lions

David A. Barton has been named head freshman football coach at Columbia by the Lions' new head football coach, Larry McElreavy.

Barton, 41, most recently coached at Princeton, where he was offensive line coach under Frank Navarro during the 1983 and '84 seasons. His other college assignments have included stints at Amherst (offensive line coach from 1974 to 1978), and Colgate (offensive line coach and linebacker coach from 1978 to 1982).

A native of Pines Plains, N.Y., where he was Dutchess County's outstanding graduating athlete in 1963, Barton attended Ithaca College, graduating in 1967 with a B.S. in health and physical education. He captained football, basketball and baseball at Ithaca, and capped his career with selection to the Ithaca College Sports Hall of Fame.

Following graduation, Barton served two years in the U.S. Army, and then earned a master's degree from Springfield. His first head coaching position was at Fulton High in Fulton, N.Y., where he served for two seasons until joining the Amherst staff.

against one setback. Dave Arendas had three hits for the Pirates, Darren Villani had two hits and drove in three runs, and Pierson helped his own cause with an RBI triple.

Tim Rumer was charged with the loss.

Louise Matthews Named To All-Ivy Lacrosse Team

Louise Matthews, a former lacrosse and field hockey standout at Princeton Day School, has been selected to the honorable mention All-Ivy team for her performance on the 1986 Dartmouth College women's lacrosse team.

A junior attack player, Matthews scored 12 goals and added five assists for 17 points in 14 games and helped the Big Green win the Ivy League championship. Dartmouth had a 12-3 overall record, tops in school history, and a perfect 6-0 mark in the Ivy League.

Matthews had several multiple-goal games including three goals against Bucknell and two goals each against Princeton and Pennsylvania in Dartmouth wins. "Louise has great natural speed that added a great dimension to the balance of our attack," said Coach Josie Harper. "Her enthusiasm for learning and dedication has made her a great role model for our younger players."

While at Princeton Day, Matthews was a four-year letter-winner in both field hockey and lacrosse and was captain of both teams. She led both teams to New Jersey Independent School Championships her sophomore, junior and senior years. In addition, she was named most valuable player and earned all-state honors in both sports her senior year.

An economics major, Louise is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Matthews, 45 Montadale Circle.

PHS Netmen Fall Short In All Groups Tourney

Lightning didn't strike twice for the Princeton High School tennis team.

Two years ago, PHS won the all groups Public School state tournament on some gutsy play by then-freshman Bruce Ellis, who managed to overcome the intense pressure, and on the overall brilliant play of its number one singles, Jacob Leschly.

Last week, Princeton High fell in the semifinals in the same tournament to unbeaten Haddonfield, which entered the match with a 34-0 record. Haddonfield won the match, 3-2, when it captured both doubles and third singles.

Haddonfield's win streak ended at 35, however, when it then lost, 5-0, in the finals to powerful Group 4 state champion, Westfield. In winning, Westfield (27-1) won the right to oppose parochial champion, Christian Brothers Academy, for the overall state title.

If the Little Tigers had an Achilles heel, it was in doubles play. All season long PHS coach Joe Diefenbach acknowledged that he needed at least one win in doubles in key matches to take the pressure off his talented singles trio of Mark Leschly, Ellis and sophomore Stig Leschly. He didn't get it against Westfield.

Both the number one doubles of Roger Ahuja and Mike Mullen and second doubles of Richard Webb and Glenn Langdan lost in straight sets.

In the number one singles, Mark Leschly had defeated John Lee 4-6, 6-2, and Ellis won easily, 6-1, 6-4. That left it up to Stig Leschly who bowed, 3-6, 4-6, to Westfield's Joe Daly.

that Diefenbach had set at the start of the season: an individual state championship title for Mark Leschly.

Junior Tennis Tourney Set For June 21-27 at MCP

The Mercer County Park Commission will again sponsor the annual Juniors' Tennis Tournament for boys and girls on June 21-27 at the Mercer County Outdoor Tennis Center in Mercer County Park.

The tournament is open to all County residents 17 and younger. There will be divisions for both girls and boys singles 17 and under and 15 and under. Trophies will be awarded to the winner and finalist in each event.

Play will begin on Saturday, June 21 and continue throughout the week at 6 each evening. The entry fee is $6 for the tournament; tennis balls will be provided.

Applications are available at the Outdoor Tennis Center or by calling the Park Commission Office at 989-6533. Deadline for entry is June 19. For additional information, call 586-9850.

Ficarro's Slips to Second In Mercer County Softball

After winning its first six games, the Princeton-based Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team lost two of its next three outings in the Mercer County Women's "A" League.

In a 3-0 loss to 3 Seasons, Ficarro's could manage only four hits and committed an uncharacteristic four errors. Against Miller Beer, Ficarro's had just as many hits (11) as its opponent, but left 10 runners on base and gave up five extra base hits, as it suffered a 9-1 defeat.

Despite the setbacks, Ficarro's got back on track with a 3-1 victory over Cham-pale, as pitcher Clare Baxter picked up the win. Janet Swick and Diane Kelly each had a triple, Dot Krumpfer doubled, and Debbie Smyth, Baxter and Krumpfer each collected an RBI.

The team now has a record of 7-2 and is in second place, a half-game behind 7-1 Miller Beer. Ficarro's next plays Keystone Fabricating on Thursday at 8:30 p.m. on Field 2 at Mercer County Park.

father had an accident and couldn't work during the Depression, a number of rich Princetonians contributed food and money.

But, as a young man, Marty also was aware that there were many people who thought Italians should be grass cutters and blacks waiters. There were those at Princeton High School who felt the young man with the Italian name shouldn't go to college; that only certain people should go, and he wasn't one of them.

But Marty did go to college. The 1961 Princeton High School graduate completed Trenton Junior College in 1963 and received a degree in business administration and marketing from Rider College in 1966.

"They Would Cry." He was national youth coordinator for the Multiple Sclerosis Society for seven years and then sold real estate for a time. The reason he left real estate, he says, was that so many senior citizens would cry as they talked to him of selling their houses. "I tried in as many ways as possible to find programs that would help them hold onto their homes."

In 1978, he set up Increase Sales, Inc., which taught the Tom Hopkins Method of Sales Training. He was recognized for running the largest seminar in the world for the program, and was authorized to offer college credits. The business, which he left with his wife when he went to Stony Brook, wound down last year. It officially closed December 31.

Marty says the one-class society has moved into town much faster than he had anticipated. "I knew Princeton was heading into a one-class society when I was on Borough Council, and I tried to slow it down. I hope it doesn't become a sterile community."

People Who Cared. He spoke warmly of two men he came to know during his career and who characterized the best of Princeton. "I look back at Henry Patterson (former Borough mayor). I learned a lot from him. I remember he was wealthy and my reaction was that he wouldn't understand. But as I saw and looked I saw a man who was wealthy but who cared."

And he called Bud Vivian, who recently retired from Princeton University, "the heartbeat of the University."

"Princeton University," says Marty, "has a social responsibility as a corporation in town; they have a mission to help people. Bud Vivian met that mission. But if the town doesn't give reminders, the University will go its own way."

As he prepares to leave, Marty says he is the poorest he has ever been in his life, but the happiest. He has sent out a letter asking for contributions to help with the $7,500 tuition costs at Christ for the Nations and other expenses, and has already received $2,565 — plus the 1969 Plymouth.

He will be leaving a town that he loves and one to which he has contributed his time, energy and ideas. And he says, "Princeton has talent, wealth and religious leadership. If this town can't settle problems with these ingredients, there's no hope."
